Big Industrial Plans For Site On Fraser River

Smelter and Door Factory Expected to Be Among Plants to Be Erected East of New Westminster By Tacoma and Seattle Interests

Investment May Total Millions

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 8—The Vancouver Sun in a New Westminster dispatch today, says "negotiations have been proceeding for some time for establishment of a vast industrial enterprise on the Fraser River waterfront property east of Fraser Mills.

"Tacoma and Seattle interests are held to be behind the project, which may involve an investment of several million dollar on several industries, including a smelter and a door factory.

LARGE SITE AVAILABLE

"The area consists of several hundred acres with one mile of waterfrontage served by railway tracks.

"One of the largest holders of property in the area is stated to be the Westminster Trust Company.

"E. C. Turner, formerly of that company, is said to be acting on behalf of the Washington interests.

ANNOUNCEMENT AWAITED

"The negotiations are being conducted secretly, but it is understood a definite announcement will be made shortly.

"It is stated one of the main reasons for establishment of the industries, especially the door factory, is to take advantage of the British preference."

FOUND DEAD AT LAKESIDE

Eric Henry James Walker, son of Rev. Edmund Walker and Lady Emily, 649 Admirals Road, yesterday evening was found dead with a gunshot wound through his head on the site of a Boy Scout camp at Thetis Lake. An automatic revolver was found clutched in his hand.

An inquest into the death will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at McCall Bros. funeral parlors, where the remains are resting.

The body was found late yesterday afternoon by two youths, Peter Ackburn, Windemere Hotel, and Robert Wilkinson, 3142 Irma Street, who went for a swim in the lake after school. They discovered the body lying near the lake shore, and immediately notified provincial police.

It is understood Mr. Walker left a note for his mother.

Police believe the shooting occurred some time yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Walker was well known in Victoria for his activities in the Scout movement and other undertakings. Lately he had been staying with his mother on their Metchosin farm. He is survived by his parents, two sisters and one brother.

Ford May Buy Mill Of Old Song

While some Ontario citizens stoutly claim the "creaking old mill" which inspired George W. Johnson to write the poem, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," so widely known as a song, was situated in that province, not far from Hamilton, another claim is made in Tennessee, where people say a mill on Spring Creek, near Reliance, was the structure the poet had in mind. The Tennessee movement has proceeded so far that it is reported the mill soon may be sold to Henry Ford, to be preserved with his other early American possessions, but not to be moved from its present site. Shown above are the ruins of the structure, where the Tennessee story has it Johnson met and courted Maggie and returned with her in the twilight of their lives to write the poem.

Alaskan Shipping Agreement Reached In Seattle Region

Six Vessels Due to Leave For North This Week-end and 1,200 Men Back at Work; Violence in Portland and Bombing in San Francisco Mark Continuance of Port Strike There

Associated Press

Seattle, June 8. — Six vessels are due to leave here for Alaska this week-end as the result of an agreement signed between shipowners and district longshoremen officials, and 1,200 maritime employees are back at work.

Ralph Lomen, president of the Arctic Transport Company who was at the conference table, said: "It is certainly a victory for the longshoremen. I congratulate them. They got just about what they wanted."

The steamship Arthur J. Baldwin and the motorship Northland were being loaded to-day. The Northland will sail first, to-morrow evening for Ketchikan, Wrangel, Petersburg and Juneau, and with cannery supplies and general cargo.

The Baldwin is scheduled to leave Monday morning.

Port business is thus being restored to the first semblance of normalcy since the strike started May 9.

STRIKERS GET RECOGNITION

Under the agreement workmen will be hired by the union's own halls, giving the strikers the recognition they have sought.

Longshoremen will go to work at the old pre-strike wage scale of 85 cents an hour and $1.25 an hour overtime, pending wage arbitration of the entire coast strike. The final result of arbitration will be made retroactive to the interim loading period.

The seventy longshoremen and marine employees of the Alaska Steamship Company, who held up the agreement, will be taken back a few at a time, and will probably take out union cards. The strikers had refused

ANOTHER NUDIST JARS VANCOUVER

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 8.—For the second time in recent weeks, Vancouver police to-day sought a lone nudist whose immodest wanderings in residential districts have brought complaints from shocked housewives.

Residents at Nanaimo Street and Broadway yesterday saw a young man running stark naked through vacant lots and along roadways, before police had reached the scene, the man had disappeared.

Compromise Plan Adopted At Geneva

World Disarmament Conference Accepts British-French Procedure Suggestion and on Monday Will Consider How Programme Can Be Carried Out

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Geneva, June 8.—The World Disarmament Conference to-day adopted a compromise plan on procedure proposed by the British and French delegates and sent on from the steering committee this afternoon. The conference adjourned until Monday afternoon, and will then consider how best the programme of work provided in the resolution may be put into effect.

The compromise agreement as drafted by the delegates, provides for continuance of the work of the Disarmament Conference "with a view to arriving at a general convention for the reduction and limitation of armaments." Investigations will be continued along the following lines:

The committee is invited to seek by whatever means it deems appropriate, with a view to general acceptance of disarmament convention, a solution of outstanding problems without prejudice to private conversations on which governments may desire to enter to facilitate attainment of a final success by return of Germany to the conference.

A special committee would study the question of security pacts and

PROBLEM IN MURDER TRIAL

Deafness of One Accused in Merritt Case Creates Unique Situation

The position created by the deafness of Joseph George, one of four Indians charged with the murder of Constables Percy Carr and Fred Gisborne at Merritt is unique in Canadian criminal history, it was revealed this morning when the Attorney-General's Department began to study the case.

There is no rule in the Criminal Code to cover the situation, it became apparent, and the authorities had to refer to English law to discover the procedure.

Under a judgement dating back to 1876, it will be necessary for the jury in the case to discover whether Joseph is capable of following and understanding the proceedings, and, if not, whether his deafness is by reason of malice or through a visitation of God.

In the latter case, if there is no way of the accused following the proceedings he would be committed to an institution to "await His Majesty's

PLAN CHANGES AT T.B. FARM

Recommendations of Tranquille Inquiry Commission Studied By Government

Functions of the Tranquille Sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis are being carried out in a highly satisfactory manner, but changes in the administration of the farm in connection with the institution probably will be made as a result of the enquiry conducted for the Provincial Secretary's department by a commission headed by C. H. O'Halloran of Victoria.

The government has studied the commission's report, it was announced to-day by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

Speaking generally, the report is commendatory of the work being performed at Tranquille. It states that the treatment given is up-to-date and according to the most modern methods. It was found that the institution is carrying out its function, for the treatment of tuberculosis, in a highly satisfactory manner. Credit is given the staff for its efficiency and the way in which the many difficulties inseparable from an institution of the kind have been met.

Financial stringency has prevented many things being done which would be of great advantage to the institution, the report indicates, but the patients have not been allowed to suffer.

CHANGES PENDING

A number of recommendations were made, which, Dr. Weir said, would be dealt with by him. Among these are certain representations relating to the farm. As soon as feasible many of these recommendations will doubtless be put into effect. Change in the administration of the farm is now understood to be pending.

The commission, it was stated, investigated a number of rumors which had reached it, but apparently they were based on misapprehension or lack of knowledge and in practically every case were found to be without foundation.

"The department is gratified to find that the sanatorium is operating so satisfactorily and is undoubtedly affording a very large amount of relief to persons suffering from tuberculosis," it was stated.

Senior Member To Leave City

BYRON JOHNSON, M.P.P.

Byron "Boss" Johnson, senior member in the British Columbia Legislature for Victoria, will leave on June 30 to take up his permanent residence in New Westminster. Mr. Johnson, who has been manager here of Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. for the last four years, has been promoted to manager of Gilley Bros., which is another subsidiary of the holding company, Evans, Coleman and Gilley Bros.

Mr. Johnson will continue to sit in the Legislature as a member for Victoria.

Announcement of Mr. Johnson's departure from Victoria, where he has spent all his life, will be received with regret in business, sport and club circles. Mr. Johnson is one of the city's most popular native sons. On his first venture in politics last November he was accorded the greatest vote any candidate has ever received here.

CRUICKSHANK GOLF LEADER

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—Withstanding fresh challenge, Bobby Cruickshank, forty-nine-year-old Scottish professional from Richmond, Va., enjoyed a three-stroke lead over his nearest pursuer, Gene Sarazen, New York, at the halfway stage of the United States open golf championships second eighteen-hole round.

Cruickshank topped the field with a brace of 71s for 142, shaking off a number of previous rivals, while Sarazen added a 72 to his previous 73 for a thirty-six-hole aggregate of 145.

Paul Runyan, White Plains, N.Y., the pre-tournament favorite, suffered an inexplainable collapse in his short game, took a 78 in company with Sarazen and trailed Cruickshank by ten strokes with a total of 152 for the two days.

THE TIMES CELEBRATES ITS FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY

To-morrow will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of The Victoria Daily Times.

The occasion will be observed by the publication of a special illustrated edition of twelve pages, in addition to the regular large Saturday edition of this newspaper.

The special illustrated section will tell the story, chiefly by pictures, not only of the growth of The Times since June 9, 1884, but the corresponding development and change which has taken place in Victoria during that half century.

It will be the most interesting pictorial record yet presented of Victoria, past and present.

The regular Saturday Magazine Section of The Times will carry all its regular weekly features.

There will also be the colored comic section, in addition to two news sections.

Woman Reported Wandering in Woods in Selleck Region in Cascade Mountains; Failed to Find Way Back to Plane Wreck After Accompanying Injured Co-pilot Part Way to Settlement

Pilot and Two Passengers Injured

Seattle, June 8. — A rescue party which reached the scene of a Spokane-Seattle United Air Lines plane wreck six miles east of Selleck in the Cascades, reported to-day that one woman passenger was missing and a man and woman passenger and the pilot injured.

One passenger was reported already in Selleck. Names of the injured passengers and missing woman were not immediately ascertained. It was believed the missing woman might be a passenger who started to accompany Co-Pilot Dwight Hansen, who reached a logging camp telephone after fighting his way through the bush to notify Selleck of the accident. She was unable to keep up and Hansen sent her back to the plane.

INJURIES DESCRIBED

The plane carried nine persons.

The plane, battling fog in the high Cascades, plunged into a steep hillside about 5 p.m. yesterday, twenty minutes before it was due here.

BITS OF CLOTH ALONG TRAIL

Twenty-five loggers left Selleck afoot for the wrecked ship. The searchers hoped to reach the plane by following bits of a woman's dress which the injured co-pilot, Dwight Hansen, dropped as he fought his way through the wilderness yesterday evening despite a possible skull fracture, broken nose, a deep gash in his left leg and many minor cuts and bruises.

The scene of the accident is about six miles from Selleck, little logging town in central King County. It is in rugged wooded hilly country.

Hansen, in a hospital here, said he asked one of the women to accompany him as he left to find aid, fearing because of his weakness he would

MISSING BOAT CREW LANDS

St. John's, Nfld., June 8.—Three salmon fishermen, almost given up for lost after their disabled motorboat was driven out to sea by a storm Wednesday, were safe to-day.

Hungry and exhausted following two days and two nights of exposure, they brought their little craft to land about five miles north of Codroy, while other fishermen of the district continued to scour the sea in a dozen boats.

Work Hours Proclamation

New Measure of B.C. Legislation in Effect Thursday

The new British Columbia Hours of Work Act, giving wide powers to the Board of Industrial relations to determine work hours in industry, business, trades and occupations will go into effect by proclamation on June 14, next Thursday.

Passed at the last session of the B.C. Legislature, the measure gives to the board authority somewhat similar to that conferred by the new minimum wage measures.

Regulations governing different industries covered by the former limited Hours of Work Act have been discussed by the board and will be promulgated and made effective at the same date.

J. W. LORIMER DIED TO-DAY

LATE J. W. LORIMER

Victoria lost one of its best known and most popular native sons in the death this morning at 6 o'clock at St. Joseph's Hospital of John Walter Lorimer, excise examiner for the Department of Customs, one of the leaders of Elkdom in Canada and a prominent athlete in his younger days. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon.

Born in Victoria fifty-six years ago on May 20, Mr. Lorimer was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lorimer, pioneer residents of Victoria. He received his education at Boys' Central School and the Victoria High School, where he early established a reputation as an all-round athlete. He continued his interest in athletics until the time of his death, being particularly fond of coaching young boys in baseball.

SERVED OVERSEAS

On August 14, 1914, he joined the local staff of the Department of Customs, leaving later for overseas as a sergeant with the 88th Battalion. He served in England as a bombing instructor. On his return to Victoria he again joined the customs staff, and was a well-known figure at the outer docks of Victoria.

Commons Committee Told Names of Montreal Firms Mentioned During Study of Business of Simpson's, Toronto, Will Be Made Public

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8—Evidence of sweatshop conditions in Montreal clothing plants which made suits sold by the Robert Simpson Company Limited, Toronto retail and mail order house, was presented to the parliamentary mass buying committee to-day.

Before the inquiry closes, names of the firms will be disclosed, promised Chairman H. H. Stevens, when pressed by W. W. Kennedy, Conservative, Winnipeg South Centre, for "every publicity in the world," for offending firms and their blacklisting by provincial and federal governments from tendering for contracts.

A. W. Edwards, Conservative, South Waterloo, Ont., said the federal government had patronized sweatshops by letting a recent contract for pants, probably for policemen, on which 17 cents each was paid for labor.

"Yes," agreed Sam Factor, Liberal, Toronto West Centre. "I have a letter relating to that contract."

CONTRACT DESCRIBED

J. G. Glassco, one of the investigating auditors for the committee, told of a contract let by the Simpson firm to a Montreal clothing manufacturer for 125 boys' suits. The cost to the manufacturer was as follows: Material, $3.87; labor, $1.05, overhead,

HUNGER STRIKE OFF TEMPORARILY

Winnipeg, June 8.—A dollar, contributed by an anonymous friend yesterday evening enabled P. J. Rykers, who started a hunger strike Wednesday, to enjoy a meal to-day.

Rykers started his strike in protest against conditions which force a man to accept relief. He characterized obtaining relief as "humiliating."

Bread and weak tea formed the meal which Rykers bought with the dollar sent by a friend. Just whether he would go back on the strike when the dollar became exhausted was unknown.

MARKETING BILL SENT TO SENATE

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—Another milestone in its slow progress towards a place in the statute books has been passed by the Natural Products Marketing Act. After months of debate, many amendments and stubborn opposition at every stage, the bill received third reading yesterday evening and now awaits the will of the Senate.

Launched with the object of improving the economic position of the producers of natural products, particularly the farmers, the bill was assailed by critics in turn as Fascism, Socialism and Communism.

Prime Minister Bennett entered the lists on behalf of the bill in the closing hours of the debate on third reading. He denied it was either Communism or Fascism and declared if it was Socialism then he had been a supporter of Socialism for many years.

MR. KING'S MOTION

Making a last stand against the measure, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, on Wednesday moved it be referred back to committee for amendments. If suitable changes were made he would support it.

The motion was lost yesterday evening by a vote of ninety-three to forty-four. The Liberals and two Independent members, A. W. Neill, Comox-Alberni, and Henri Bourassa,

QUINTUPLETS DOING WELL

One of Ontario Babies Loses Part of Day's Gain; Others' Weight Increases

Canadian Press

Corbeil, Ont., June 8.—A loss of two and a half ounces by Emilie left the combined weights of the eleven-day-old Dionne quintuplets to-day only one ounce more than yesterday, but all are thriving, according to Dr. A. R. Dafoe, their physician.

Emilie yesterday showed a gain of three and a half ounces over Wednesday, so it was not unexpected she would lose some of the unusually heavy gain. Yvonne and Annette gained one and a quarter ounces overnight and Marie and Cecile a half ounce each. Their weights now are: Yvonne 40 ounces, Annette 37½, Cecile 31, Emilie 29½, Marie 26. They total ten pounds four ounces.

All of the children have slate grey eyes and dark brown hair. Their increased weight has ironed out some of the wrinkles and they now look much more like ordinary infants than they did at birth.

MOTHER ARISES

Mrs. Olivia Dionne, their mother, left her bed this morning. Dr. Dafoe had considered advising her to stay in bed over the week-end, but she showed such improvement he consented to her rising. She saw the youngsters for the first time in several days and is expected to be well enough soon to leave her home and visit her other five children, who are living with relatives.

NO EARLY DISPLAY

The Dionnes have given up all thought of exhibiting their infant daughters this summer. Their physician had advised against moving the children and they intimate they will do as he says. Dionne signed a contract to show them in Chicago, but Dr. Dafoe's consent was stipulated. Dionne, it is said, has received only $100 from the promoters and it was agreed he was to get that much each week until the babies went on exhibition.

Friends have advised the Dionnes that next spring will be time enough to consider exhibiting them. They point out the children will be even more valuable then for it will be established they will live.

VAST SCHEME OF INSURANCE

Roosevelt Prepares Wide Social Plan For Security of Citizens and U.S. Families

By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Writer

Washington, June 8. — President Roosevelt told the United States Congress to-day he is preparing a vast plan of social insurance for the security "of the citizen and his family."

This, with another national plan for land and water resources, will be laid before Congress next winter.

"Among our objectives I place the security of the men, women and children of the nation first," his message said.

Regarding homes, he said the government had already appropriated millions for housing, and under a housing bill now before the legislators can "stimulate the lending of money" to modernize homes and build new ones.

"When the next Congress convenes," he declared, "I hope to be able to present to it a carefully considered national plan, covering the development and human use of our national resources of land and water over a long period of years."

LAND CHANGES

It involves abandoning millions of acres for agricultural use and replacing them with better land.

The President disclosed he has begun actuarial studies looking to a unified system of social insurance, including unemployment and old age.

"I believe," he said, "there should be a maximum of co-operation between states and the federal government. I believe the funds necessary to provide this insurance should be raised by contribution rather than by an increase in general taxation.

NEW DEAL

About the New Deal in general, the President said:

"We have sought to put forward the rule of fair play in finance and industry.

"It is true there are few among us who would still go back. These few offer no substitute for the gains already made, nor any hope for making further gains for human happiness.

"They loudly assert that individual liberty is being restricted by government, but when they are asked what individual liberties they have lost, they are put to it to answer."

This was clearly Mr. Roosevelt's reply to any opposition his administration is encountering for the coming election campaign.

Search For Woman After Plane Wreck

collapse. However, she could not keep up, so he sent her back to the plane, taking part of her dress to tear into bits so searchers could back-track him. He plunged through brush for almost two miles, dropping his compass, taken from the plane, several times, and spending precious minutes pawing for it on the ground. Finally, he reached a creek. He waded down the stream in water above his knees until he reached the private railroad of the Pacific States Lumber Company. There he found a telephone and called Selleck, three miles away. Loggers accompanied him to Selleck, where he was put in an ambulance and rushed to the hospital.

WARNING CAME TOO LATE

He recalled the plane was over the forested country of the western Cascades and that Pilot Redfield had it "throttled down to low speed, because of the fog which crept among the peaks."

"All of a sudden we ran into a low ceiling in the fog," he said. "I guess I was the first one to see trees straight ahead on a hill side. I shouted to Ben, 'Pull up, pull her up,' then the big ship went into the trees and hit the hillside, the plane going nose down."

The cabin, however, was not smashed, he said, and only one passenger, a girl, was unable to get out without help. Miss Marian Bennett of Salt Lake City, the stewardess, began attending to her.

A short time later, he said, with a compass from the plane he started out to reach civilization. Finally, after a long struggle through the wilderness, he found the logging railway.

LIST OF PARTY

Those aboard the plane were the two pilots and stewardess, Mrs. O. G. Johanneson, Spokane; Helen Curran, Seattle; Daisy Mooney and Mercedes Boyd, Winthrope, Washington; Robert C. Clark, Wenatchee, and P. C. Beezley of Spokane, the company reported here.

The Dominion dollar extended its premium from 11-16 to ¾ of a cent. The final rate for sterling was $5.06¼, off ¾ of a cent, while the French franc, closing at 6.61½ cents, showed a gain of .00½ of a cent.

MOVIE ACTRESS LOSES HER LIFE

Dorothy Dell Killed in California Auto Crash; Dr. C. Wagner Also Killed

Associated Press

Pasadena, Cal., June 8. — Dorothy Dell Goff, daughter of a wealthy retired New Orleans lumberman, who attained spectacular prominence in motion pictures within the last several months, was killed early to-day in an automobile accident.

Her companion, Dr. Carl Wagner, twenty-eight, prominent Pasadena dentist, who was questioned by authorities several months ago in connection with the unsolved murder of Dr. Leonard Siever, also a well-known Pasadena dentist, was fatally injured. He died six hours later.

WAS WITH FOLLIES

Miss Dell, who had appeared on the New York stage and in Ziegfeld's follies, came to Hollywood last December to play bit parts in motion pictures for Paramount Studios.

The studio executives, however, soon gave her more important roles and she was given the lead opposite Victor McLaglen in the recent release, "Wharf Angel."

Another featured part in "Little Miss Marker" followed and Miss Dell had just completed her third starring vehicle, "Shoot the Works," which was previewed at Paramount Studios only yesterday evening.

Heavy Tremors In California

No Damage, But Patrons Abandon Theatres; Several Cities Feel Shocks

Associated Press

Los Angeles, June 8.—An earthquake shook a large area of central and southern California yesterday evening, but reports to-day showed no damage.

Observers at the Carnegie Institution's seismological laboratory in Pasadena described it as severe enough, however, to have spread considerable havoc at its epicentre.

Theatres in Ventura and Sana Maria were rapidly vacated by patrons when the tremors shook those coast towns at 8.48 p.m.

Hanford, in central California, apparently was nearest the epicentre of the cities and towns reporting the shock. The tremors, however, only rattled dishes and swung chandeliers.

An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded at 8.48 o'clock last night at the Gonzales Observatory. The tremors continued for one and one-half hours. The epicentre was 1,060 miles distant.

DILLINGER'S AIDE SLAIN

Associated Press

Waterloo, Ia., June 8.—New clues to John Dillinger's whereabouts—alive or dead—were hunted to-day over the back-trail of Tommy Carroll.

When quick-shooting detectives pumped five bullets into Carroll yesterday, they erased another of the crime brothers of Dillinger. But their gunfire was a bit to good, for it sealed lips that might have given valuable information about the No. 1 bad man.

With Carroll was Jean Crompton. She said she was his wife, but police said Carroll's wife lived in St. Paul, Minn.

Police are holding her. She was one of the three women arrested following Dilinger's escape from the Little Bohemia resort at Mercer, Wis.

Police heard that another man and another woman had been companions of Carroll and the twenty-one-year-old Crompton girl, and search for them was being pressed to-day.

24 cents, total $5.16. The suits were sold to Simpsons for $5.65 each, which represented a profit of 49 cents to the manufacturer. Simpsons marked up each suit $3.41.

In filling the order, the manufacturer sublet the labor. The subcontractor charged $1.05 for each suit, which included his overhead and profit. The auditor said he could not tell how much was the actual labor cost, but the manufacturer, he had been assured by Quebec government officials, had been convicted under the provincial minimum wage laws.

At this point, Mr. Factor reminded the committee it had heard evidence earlier of Montreal clothing manufacturers paying 50 cents a dozen as labor costs for men's trousers and 35 cents a dozen for boys.

PROFIT OF TWO PER CENT

The Montreal manufacturer receives most of his business from departmental stores, the auditor said. Last year he had orders aggregating $334,000, on which his profit was $7,000 or two per cent.

There were other orders given by Simpsons to the Montreal house. On one, the manufacturer made 36 cents and Simpsons $5.18; on another, 26 cents and $4.53. On every order, the Simpson mark-up was three or four times the labor cost, said the witness.

MAIL ORDER FIGURES

It cost the mail order division of the Simpson Company $1,052,291 to do business last year on goods for which it paid $2,056,312, the committee was told by its auditor, George Adamson, Toronto.

Actually, the mail order division made a gross profit of $951,331, but this was converted into a net loss after the Simpson holding company started assessing interest, depreciation, building maintenance, rent, income taxes and other charges. The net loss last year was $172,870.

The mail order furniture department made a gross profit of $171,134 last year, but this was lowered to $14,090 through the outside charges which Chairman H. H. Stevens noted represented in themselves, "a handsome profit on the business."

WANTS FIGURES ANALYZED

"We should see," suggested E. J. Young, Liberal, Weyburn, Sask, "how much of these charges are necessary and how much are unnecessary."

"We should see whether this business is being managed efficiently," amended Mr. Factor.

It seemed incredible to him, said Mr. Kennedy, the company's financial statement reflected a true picture of mail order operations. He could not understand why a large company would continue operating a mail order division that continually lost money.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—An estimated total of 10,000 clothing workers in Montreal and Toronto had their wages cut as a result of competition between two Toronto department stores, the T. Eaton Company Limited and the Robert Simpson Company Limited, in low-priced suits, the Parliamentary mass buying committee was told yesterday afternoon.

In December, 1932, the Eaton firm advertised made-to-order men's suits for $16.50. This reduced sales in one of Canada's biggest clothing houses, Tip Top Tailors of Toronto. That firm arranged with the Simpson organization to deliver suits at $13, to be retailed at $16.50, the same figure as their competitors.

A 10 per cent wage cut was necessary in the Tip Top plant to fill the order at $13 a suit and the employees accepted it. The plant being a union shop, this rate spread to other tailoring houses in Toronto and Montreal. It was estimated the wages of 10,000 workers were reduced in the process. The Simpson firm sold 3,000 suits.

PRACTICES STUDIED

All day yesterday the committee heard evidence on the merchandising practices of the Simpson firm, with George Adamson, investigating auditor of Toronto, on the stand. Particular attention was paid to spreads between cost and selling prices, which sometimes ran as high as 200 or 300 per cent.

Since 1928, the mail order department of Simpson's, with branches at Toronto, Regina and Halifax, has lost money. This statement caused Chairman H. H. Stevens to tell his fellow-members they should note it because of the country-wide competition of mail order houses with small town merchants.

Net profits from the mail order branch of the company were registered in 1924, 1926, 1927 and 1928. Then came a trail of red ink—a loss of $332,598 in 1929; $82,493 in 1930; $175,900 in 1932; $472,276 in 1933 and $172,870 last year.

This was due primarily, said the committee auditor, to reduced sales, which fell 50 per cent between 1924 and 1933. Losses were not confined to the Toronto depot, but extended to Regina and Halifax as well.

CHARGES ADDED

Delivery charges had been added to prices set forth in the mail order catalogues, the auditor said, express fees and parcel post rates. The firm spent $835,000 last year in printing catalogues with which it blanketed the country.

The committee was told the mark-up—spread between cost and selling prices—had increased materially recently in some departments, although the average for the store had remained about 50 per cent for some years. Long lists of spreads were read out—101 per cent on sewing cabinets; men's suits, 143.3, 106 and less; girls' coats, 231, 202 and 158; dresses, 271, 252 and 287; capes, 374 and 271, and tohers running to smaller figures.

The Simpson Company put on a sale designed to speed up employment, in which advertising manufacturers would donate goods at cost. In this sale, Simpson's placed 1,900 pairs of shoes which cost $3.fi1, and which sold for $4.19, a mark-up of 16 per cent, and 612 others with a spread of 17 per cent.

DISCOUNTS GIVEN

The committee secured fresh evidence on the large discounts granted quantity buyers by manufacturers of rubber footwear. On one order, Simpsons secured discounts of 14, 15 and 2 per cent and on another, 10, 15 and 2 per cent. It was announced they would be investigated in view of the strict by-laws of the Rubber Manufacturers' Association on discounts.

When evidence was secured that Simpsons purchased boys' pants for eighty cents each, the chairman announced inquiry would be made into labor conditions in the Montreal plant where they were made. The committee earlier had been told wages in some Montreal plants making boys' pants ran as low as thirty-five cents a dozen garments.

The evidence showed that initial mark-ups on cost prices of men's pyjamas were 87.42 per cent, and on men's shirts the mark-ups ranged from 27.78 per cent to 70.45 per cent.

DRUG PRICES

In the drug department the mark-up on acetophen was from $1.79 a dozen to $4.20, or 136.64 per cent. The mark-up on the "50-cent size" milk of magnesia was 120.75 per cent, and 100 per cent on quinine tablets.

The committee turned its attention to the toilet goods department.

"Generally speaking, the mark-up on toilet goods was higher than on drugs?" asked committee counsel.

The witness agreed.

On three dozen triple compacts there had been a mark-up of 150 per cent; on single compacts 140 per cent; on combs 118.88 per cent, and on nail brushes 110.14 per cent. Soaps had the smallest mark-up—12.03 and 11.46 per cent.

For 1933, the gross profits of this department as a whole for the Toronto store, after stock write-downs and stock shortages, was 44.76 per cent.

The average mark-up on brushes, witness answered Sam Factor, Liberal, Toronto West Centre, was 50 per cent.

The board is scheduled to meet next Tuesday and may discuss the wider application of the act.

Generally the measure conforms to the former act in respect of setting an eight-hour day and forty-eight-hour week. It removes administration, however, from the former board of adjustment to the new Board of Industrial Relations.

The old act applied specifically to industrial occupations. The new one covers these and widens the scope of the board to apply rules in any other trades or occupations it sees fit. So far no move has been made outside the industries already covered.

Wide powers of investigation of firms' books, employees and conditions are conferred.

In addition the penalty clauses are strengthened, providing a minimum fine of $25 for infractions where the old act did not set a minimum.

to work with the men who had refused to walk out.

About 500 men were being sent out of the union hall to load Alaska ships. Close to 600 union sailors and 125 masters, mates and pilots also were to return to work to-day. Ships to be loaded this week-end include the William M. Tupper, the Virginia, Derblay, Zapora and Noreo.

VIOLENCE AT PORTLAND

Portland, June 8.—While police stood at a distance and looked on, twenty-four non-union seamen yesterday were forced by members of the striking International Seamen's Union to leave the Richfield oil tanker Kekoskee, and were compelled to leave the city immediately by motor stage.

One man, said to have been the boatswain, was beaten by the strikers when he first refused to act on their commands. It was the most serious disturbance of the kind at this port since the strike of seamen became effective.

POLICE INACTIVE

Police were said to have made no attempt to prevent the strikers from boarding the ship.

The sailors were taken by automobile to the union hall and forced to buy bus tickets. Eighteen bought transportation to California, four to Seattle, and one to Salem.

The Kekoskee arrived late yesterday from Los Angeles with a bulk cargo of petroleum products.

Patrol boats, carrying pickets of striking longshoremen and striking seamen, operate constantly on the river and arriving vessels are watched closely.

The longshoremen's strike to-day was in its thirty-first day, and shipping continued at a complete standstill.

BOMBS DROPPED

San Francisco, June 8.—Bombs dropped from the air added a touch of modern warfare to the Pacific Coast's month-old longshoremen's strike as the blockade on all except Alaska vessels continued to-day.

Three aerial bombs, believed by police to have been fired from a rifle grenade, crashed over a guarded stockade at Los Angeles harbor, in which non-union dock workers are housed. A fragment of one of the bombs hurled sand in the eye of a guard.

Sporadic violence also continued at other ports.

All members Victoria Lodge, No. 2, B.P.O. Elks, are requested to meet at the lodgeroom to-morrow at 3.30 p.m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Brother J. W. Lorimer.

Mr. Johnson to-day expressed regret at having to severe his active connections with Victoria but remarked that the promotion was too good to pass up.

On his return from the Great War where he served in the motor transport and the Royal Air Force, Mr. Johnson with his brother, John V. Johnson, organized the firm of Johnson Bros., which dealt in builders' supplies and operated a fleet of large trucks. Their business developed rapidly and in 1930 they sold out and the firm became known as Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros., with Mr. Johnson as manager.

Mr. Johnson is one of the outstanding athletes that Victoria has produced. He started playing lacrosse at the Boys' Central School as a goalkeeper and continued in this game for many years. He played amateur senior lacrosse and turned professional before the war to play with Con Jones of Vancouver. For nearly a quarter of a century he played rugby, starring at full back and at times on the three-quarter line. He captained a number of McKechnie Cup teams which wore the redshirts against their old rivals from Vancouver. For many years he and his brother were the regular goal umpires at the hockey games here.

In more recent years Mr. Johnson has restricted his athletic activities to golf.

Mr. Johnson has been very active in the Kiwanis Club, Y.M.C.A. and many other local organizations and his last work was as chairman of the Y.M.C.A. circus which attracted a huge crowd to the Willows.

Gilley Bros. in New Westminster operate rock quarries, sand and gravel pits and deal in builders' supplies.

William Hyslop and J. V. Johnson will carry on the business of Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros.

INDIANS BEFORE COURT AT MERRITT

Hearing of Three George Brothers on Charge of Slaying Constable Adjourned Till Next Tuesday After Much Evidence Taken

Canadian Press

Merritt, B.C., June 8.—Preliminary hearing of charges of murder against three Indian brothers, Richardson, Eneas and Alex. George, was adjourned yesterday evening until next Tuesday. A murder charge against another brother, Joseph, had been adjourned earlier to-day until June 13

The four are charged with the slaying of Dominion Indian Department Constable Frank H. Gisbourne on May 23. Constable Gisbourne and British Columbia Police Constable Percy Carr were slain when they went to the Indian reserve at Canford to investigate the stabbing of the wife of Eneas George. Their bodies were thrown into the Nicola River. That of Constable Gisbourne was recovered.

Joseph George suffered a fracture of the skull and pierced ear drums in the fight which the four brothers are alleged to have had with the constables. His deafness and the fact he can not write resulted in immediate adjournment of the hearing in his case.

Testimony yesterday afternoon and evening covered much of the ground covered at the coroner's investigation on Tuesday, when a jury named the four brothers as the slayer of Constable Gisbourne. The two constables were clubbed to death, according to evidence.

HEARD SHOT

Just before adjournment yesterday evening Charles Jules, Indian, stated that when he was in the house of Chief Billy shortly after the struggle between the Indians and Constables Gisbourne and Carr, he heard a shot outside and voices of a number of persons.

The shot was heard shortly before Alex George came into the house. Alex said, "A policeman is dead," stated the witness. Then Alex. went out, and came back and witness heard him say, "Other policeman is dead." He, the witness, heard Richardson George say, "If they had not killed my brother I would not have killed them. We hit them with a stick."

The witness also heard Eneas George say, "We hit them with a stick."

EVIDENCE ON MONEY

Cross-examined by H. W. Galbraith, counsel for the accused brothers, Jules stuck firmly to a statement that he saw Richardson George hand Tommy Andrew, another Indian, $1.50 and tell him "not to tell." Jules would not admit after repeated questioning on the point that Tommy Andrew had told him the next morning about being handed the $1.50 and that he had not seen the money handed over. Jules said the money was made up of a fifty cent piece and a dollar in paper.

QUOTES STATEMENT

The only other witness at the evening session was Tommy Andrew, whose evidence was similar to that he gave at the inquest.

This witness, however, stated that after the fight between the Indians and the two policemen, Richardson George said to him, "We killed policemen, both dead," and later, "I kill policemen, both of them."

Cross-examined by Mr. Galbraith, the witness testified that when Constable Gisbourne first met the Indians and the fight began, Constable Carr was right among them. He noticed Constable Gisbourne's flashlight go out when it dropped.

KEPT LAMP BURNING

Asked why the people who were in bed or lying on the floor in the one-roomed house of the chief went to bed with the lamp alight, witness said that all were afraid and left the light burning and could not sleep.

Four witnesses were heard during the afternoon session. These witnesses were the Indian "Big Frank," who found the body of Constable Gisbourne; Harry Priest, photographer; Joseph Edwards, a crippled Indian, and Henry Brown.

Expectation is that if, following conclusion of the preliminary hearing, which may occupy all day next Tuesday and part of Wednesday, the magistrate sends the accused up for trial, the case will go to the Vernon assizes, which will sit in adjourned session on June 26.

NO CONVERSATION

Throughout the entire proceedings of the inquest all day Tuesday and yesterday's session of the preliminary hearing the three accused Indians, Richardson, Eneas and Alex George, did not utter a word to one another in the courtroom. Richardson and Eneas maintained a stoical attitude. Alex, the youngest of the three brothers, sat between the other two and throughout appeared far more dejected, often leaning forward with his elbows on his knees. He is said to be tubercular.

NEW GARNET WHEAT GRADES

Committee Reports to Commons in Favor of Separate Classes

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8. — The Commons Agricultural Committee yesterday reported in favor of separate grades for Garnet wheat to be known as Garnet number one and Garnet number two, going into effect on August 1, 1935.

The bill provides the No. 1 and No. 2 Garnet will be on virtually the same basis as No. 1 and No. 2 northern. No. 1 Garnet will have a minimum weight of sixty pounds per bushel; No. 2 a minimum of fifty-eight pounds.

Assurance the Grain Standards Board will establish separate commercial grades for Garnet below the No. 2 grade, when the volume of such grain makes this practical, was given the committee by E. B. Ramsay, Winnipeg, chairman of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

TWO VIEWS

Amendments to the bill for separate grades and definite date for the new grades to become effective represented a compromise between factions strongly opposed since the committee first considered the proposal that Garnet be excluded from No. 2 northern.

PROPOSED BY POOLS

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, June 8.—Recommendations of the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons to make separate grades of Garnet wheat effective August 1, 1935, were in line with proposals of the prairie wheat pools, officials of the Manitoba Wheat Pool stated here.

"The ruling does not mean much to Manitoba, but it is important to Saskatchewan and Alberta, particulary Saskatchewan," said a pool spokesman.

Millers would welcome the separate grading, said W. J. Smallacombe, manager of the Maple Leaf Milling Company here. He recalled C. H. D. Short, president of the Canadian Millers' Association, recently had issued a statement supporting the separate grading.

Grain dealers said the change would have little effect on their business.

The disturbance that killed the two lads and destroyed the historic tree started as a spectacular sand storm and ended in a furious downpour of rain, accompanied by heavy wind. Two men taking shelter from the storm were seriously hurt.

After prolonged discussion, the convocation, on the motion of the Bishop of Durham, passed the following resolution: "That bishops should not extend an invitation to any person belonging to a denomination which does not hold the common Christian faith in Jesus as the 'Very God of Very God, Who for us men came down from Heaven and was made man.'"

MAN KILLED IN LIONS' CAGE

Associated Press

Whipsnade, Eng., June 8.—While a crowd of horrified spectators looked on, four lions in an open-air zoo here yesterday killed a zoo employee who had gone into their pit to recover a visitor's hat.

The owner of the hat and several other persons who tried to save the victim, Stanley Lewis Stenson, were driven back by the lions, two of which were eventually killed by keepers before they could recover Stenson's body.

Stenson, employed in the catering department of the zoo, apparently decided to attempt to retrieve the hat, and went into the enclosure between the outer barrier and the railing surrounding the pit in which the lions are kept.

As he crawled along the top of the inside railing two of the lions reached through the bars and began mauling him.

Stenson was unable to get away from the lions' claws and several spectators went into the place to try to pull him away, but were not successful, as the two other lions joined in the attack through the bars.

Stenson then fell into the pit, striking his head on the concrete about sixteen feet below. The lions dragged him farther into the pit as the horrified spectators screamed and several women fainted.

The keepers had to shoot two of the lions before they were able to drive the others into their cages at the far end of the pit.

MORE CANADIAN CATTLE TO BRITAIN

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8. — The quota of Canadian cattle allowed into Great Britain during the first six months of this year has been increased by 3,300 head, the Department of External Affairs has been advised. This will bring the total for this year up to the end of June to 23,500 head.

It had previously been arranged the quota for the first six months should be no greater than was shipped during the corresponding period last year, which was 20,200 head. It was found, however, contracts had been made and shipping space reserved for a considerably larger number. The Canadian government made representations to the British government, pointing this out, and asking the quota be increased. The government of the United Kingdom complied with this request.

Transcanada Air Mail Service Is Planned

When Economic Conditions Improve, Fast Planes Will Be Ready, Says Ottawa Air Official

Calgary, June 8.—A coast-to-coast air mail service in nineteen hours, traveling in airplanes capable of flying the sky lanes from Montreal to Vancouver at a speed of more than 200 miles an hour, is the hope of Canadian airmen.

Squadron Leader A. T. Crowley, superintendent of air regulations, Ottawa, in Calgary yesterday on an inspection tour, outlined plans for the fast mail service of the future—to be put in operation when economic conditions are better.

A nineteen-hour cross-continental service is no ideal dream, Squadron Leader Crowley declared. All plans have been made, the fields are available, and the planes to undertake the speedy flights could be constructed in Canada, as many hope, he said. Officers of the Department of Civil Aviation and the Royal Canadian Air Force, operating in conjunction with postal authorities, have all plans ready for operation.

BY WAY OF CROW'S NEST

The proposed route would take a western aerial trail via Regina, Lethbridge and the Crow's Nest to Vancouver, making a direct mountain crossing to the coast. A branch service would be maintained from Calgary to Lethbridge.

In the east, from Montreal, the fast-flying mail carriers would sweep over northern Ontario, collecting mail from branch lines at designated points. No passengers would be carried.

OPPORTUNITY FOR ELECTORS

Ontario People Urged By Hepburn to Declare For Liberal Government

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—"This opportunity will not come again for five years, and so I appeal to you to end bad government in Ontario," declared Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, in addressing a great throng of Liberals here yesterday evening.

Earlier in the day Mr. Hepburn had been tendered a complimentary luncheon by his Liberal parliamentary colleagues, and also addressed a large crowd at Casselman, Ont., about four miles from here.

He was supported yesterday evening by Arthur Slaght, K.C., Toronto, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, M.P. for Quebec East, former Liberal Minister of Justice.

ABITIBI DEAL

Mr. Slaght charged the government with maintaining a tariff of fifty cents per horsepower on hydro. "The most disgraceful scandal in the history of Ontario" was his description of the Abitibi deal.

"I say, in addition to that of Senator Arthur Meighen (as a member of the Ontario Hydro-electric Power Commission), the resignation of Hon. George S. Henry should also have been handed to His Majesty's representative" as a result of the Premier's ownership of Abitibi bonds, said Mr. Slaght.

Mr. Hepburn claimed that while he was touring northern Ontario, Conservative members had telephoned ahead announcing programmes of road construction, increased wages for road workers and other "bribes."

Polling in the Ontario general election will take place June 19.

PROVINCE AND MUNICIPALITIES

PREMIER PATTULLO TOLD THE municipal delegation which waited on the government yesterday that at the next session of the Legislature a thorough study of the financial relations between the province and the municipalities will be made with a view to a complete reconstruction of provincial-municipal affairs.

It will not be an easy matter to find a remedy for the existing conditions. The municipalities must have more revenue. The province must have more revenue. How to find this new revenue is the problem. It is well known that the municipalities have exhausted all their means of revenue by taxation. They have to provide several services which, to all intents and purposes, should be either federal or provincial charges. Real property can not stand any more taxation. Municipalities naturally must guard against property reversions.

Yesterday's Victoria-Vancouver delegation submitted to the government the following seven points:

1. The responsibility of cities to provide revenue by taxes on real property should be limited to services of a local nature that apply specifically to that property.

2. If the provincial government insists on assigning to cities the duty of administering services of a general nature, such as public health and relief, an equitable proportion of provincial revenue should be allocated to the cities.

3. The cost of education and hospitalization should come from revenues other than taxes on real property and administration of these services should be primarily under the jurisdiction of the province.

4. That the cities should be given again the right to license insurance companies, trust companies, beer parlors, beverage dispensers, export liquor dealers, employment bureaus and taxi drivers, because the cities have to provide services for these businesses. At present the province licenses them.

5. The cities should receive all amusement taxes collected within their boundaries, since they have to provide services for the amusement places.

6. The amount of municipal license fees should not be limited, but left in the complete control of city authorities.

7. The province should solely administer social services, as they have no relation to real property, and the entire cost should be provided from income taxation and other taxes apart from those on real property.

That the government appreciates the difficulties with which the municipalities are faced is obvious from the fact that Mr. Wells Gray, as Minister, and Mr. Robert Baird, as Deputy Minister, respectively, were selected to preside over a department of municipal affairs. Mr. Gray has a mine of experience in such matters, and, by virtue of his long service as Inspector of Municipalities, Mr. Baird has the business at his finger tips.

PRACTICAL ECONOMY

AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE statement which Mr. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Canadian National Railways, made before the House of Commons committee on railways and shipping on Wednesday was that it is the board's policy to seek out every possible means to economy consistent with safe operation and responsible service to the public. "With the return of normal conditions," he said, "we shall continue this policy. Even if there is a return to prosperity we shall continue this policy. We are fixed in our determination that at all times and under all conditions we must be economical in our expenditures—as a saving of every one per cent in operating expenses means a saving of $1,500,000, even on the 1933 level of expenditures."

While, as Mr. Fullerton told the committee, every item of unnecessary expenditure has been discontinued, "economy can not be made without displacing labor." It must be understood that out of every dollar spent in operating the railway, sixty-three cents is a direct payroll expense. This means that to secure economies labor must necessarily be displaced. It is the board's greatest desire, Mr. Fullerton's statement says, to see the men returning to work in the essential services. In this respect it is gratifying to note that the first three months of this year, compared with the corresponding period of 1933, show 6,463 more employees at work. This improved condition should be considered with the fact that the gross revenue of the Canadian National Railways for the first five months of this year shows an increase of $11,630,000 over the first five months of last year. In relation to the revenue and expenses aspects of the C.N.R. problem these comments from Mr. Fullerton explain much:

Apart from revenues and expenses, the other major item in our problem is the annual interest in our funded debt in the hands of the public. In 1923 the amount was $35,500,000; in 1928, $42,000,000; in 1932 the peak was reached at $56,965,000. This might be classed as an uncontrollable item. There is not very much the trustees can do about it. It was here when we entered office.

Under the policy which has been in effect since 1932 there has been a gradual reduction in the total interest charges payable to the public and opportunities will arise for refunding existing issues at a lower rate of interest.

The statement presented to the House of Commons committee then sets out the savings which it would be possible to make by refunding issues which are callable next year. There are two due then and if refunded on even a four and one-half per cent basis, $900,000 would be saved.

It will thus be seen that the Canadian National Railways is making the very best of a situation over which it has no control, by co-operating, as pointed out in these columns yesterday, with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and by economizing in every manner possible. Let it be remembered, moreover, that this property belongs to the people of Canada and its owners must be protected.

A STURDY PIONEER

MR. EDWARD WHITE, WHO PASSED away yesterday in his ninety-fourth year was a notable survivor of the rapidly-dwindling band of argonauts who were drawn to this coast by the gold discoveries more than seventy years ago. Endowed with exceptional mental and physical vigor, enterprising, resourceful, and invincibly optimistic, he had all the qualities that were necessary for his adjustment to the unusual conditions which confronted him when he came to this new world. His long record here embraces many activities. He was prominent in business, he was one of the founders of the Vancouver Board of Trade, he was a leader in many social activities, especially in the musical life of the city to which he contributed his fine talents as a vocalist.

Mr. White's confidence in the future of the province was shock-proof and endured up to the end of his long life. Never was he more energetic and hopeful than he was when he had reached an age which most other people would regard as the limit of human activity, and at seventy he had the vigor and enthusiasm of the ordinary man of forty. In fact his mental alertness and interest in life and its passing show were preserved to the very final moment of his career. A remarkable memory, felicity of expression and keen sense of humor made him an interesting raconteur, particularly of his reminiscences of the early days. He will be keenly missed in both Victoria and Vancouver where he was highly respected for his sterling character and upstanding citizenship.

SHIRTISM AGAIN

SIR OSWALD MOSLEY'S BLACK-SHIRTS got themselves into a row last night in the West End of London and four members of the House of Commons have written letters to The London Times to-day accusing the Fascists of a "deplorable outrage against public order."

Three Conservative members of the House of Commons and one Independent say in their letters they saw uniformed Fascists practice "wholly unnecessary" violence on interruptors at a meeting at which Sir Oswald Mosley was the chief speaker.

We are told that more than 100 persons were injured, some seriously, and that twenty or more persons were arrested, police breaking up the meeting with a baton charge. Sir Oswald's supporters arrived at the meeting in evening dress and, of course, the demonstrators against the Fascist display were dubbed Communists.

Fascism in Great Britain will not get any further than its cousin—Communism. They are both the product of government by force. Britain will be tolerant of Mosley until he goes a wee bit too far for the stolid Briton's idea of democracy. He will be permitted to have his verbal fling; but when he kicks over the traces, he will be dealt with as will befit the occasion.

There is no need for any organization in Britain to masquerade under the guise of a saviour of the country from Communism. Communists who have aspired to parliamentary honors in recent years have consistently lost their deposits.

UNFAIR AND ABSURD

THE TIMES AGREES WITH THE VANcouver Daily Province in its contention that Mr. H. J. Barber, member of the House of Commons for the Fraser Valley, is doing good work for British Columbia in keeping the domestic freight rates question constantly before the public. An absurd condition exists for which the people of this province have to pay dearly while the prairie provinces, too, suffer because it costs too much to bring some prairie products to British Columbia.

As our contemporary says: "Two carloads of wheat grown in the same Alberta field leave Edmonton in the same train for Vancouver. One is switched to an elevator which supplies grain for chicken and cattle feed. It pays a freight rate of forty-one and a half cents a hundred pounds. The other goes to an export elevator and finds its way into a ship for Liverpool. It pays a freight rate of twenty cents a hundred pounds. It costs the railway company the same to haul the two cars to Vancouver. Presumably it makes a profit on the export car. Yet it is allowed to collect more than twice as much in the way of freight from the domestic car. If that is not absurd, what is it? If it is not discrimination, what is it? And the Railway Act forbids discrimination."

The result of this condition is that we in this province pay a higher price for our flour and bread, higher price for meats into the production of which prairie grain enters, while it is a handicap against stock breeders, and a penalty on the poultrymen. It constricts the market for grain, and, of course, it cuts down the business of the railway companies imposing the two rates because of the lower demand for the stuff which comes from the prairies. As The Province says, "it is an absurdity, a discrimination all round."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

The Halifax Herald

A report states that a Trieste merchant offered to an Austrian importer Italian wheat flour delivered gratis at the Austrian border, if the Austrian would pay the import duty and the remainder of the transportation charge. The Austrian could not see that he could pay the full duty and still sell at the market price at home. To meet this, the Italian not only offered to deliver the flour free at the border, but to pay an additional 20 lire per quintal toward the import duty. Even on this basis the Austrian importer found that it was barely possible for him to sell without loss. But, on the other hand, the Italian could carry his proposal through a profit, because the export bounty paid by the Italian Government was sufficient to compensate him for his gift. This further is to be noted, to make the situation still more absurd, that Italy is an importer of wheat—and that some of the wheat she imports comes through Austria from Hungary!

Loose Ends

The world is shaken by another great international issue—but somewhat prematurely—the thin one and the fat one are annoyed—and an icycle is bitten on the leg.

By H. B. W.

FALLEN IDOL

THE MOTION pictures of the McLarnin-Ross fight have revived the bitter complaints on this side of the line over the distressing fall of Vancouver's champion, Jimmy McLarnin. The sports writers seem quite sure that he really won and an eminent columnist in Vancouver has risen to a fine passion in declaring that a Canadian fighter can never win in an American ring, unless he knocks the American cold.

All this may be true, but I fail to see that it is anything to get really excited about. I mean to say, McLarnin received just $58,936 as his share of the profits from the fight, and that is pretty good pay for one night's work. It will take most men about twenty years of hard labor to make the same amount. This trifling sum should be at least some slight consolation to Mr. McLarnin. A good many people I know would be glad to take it in return for an evening's exercise.

What everybody seems to forget in the excitement of a great international issue of this sort is that fellows like McLarnin are fighting for the crudest of human motives—simply to make money. If it were an amateur contest, if there were any other motive in it, there might be some reason for concern or regret over the outcome; but when it is just a business proposition to fill Madison Square Gardens and the pockets of a couple of young fellows whose elevating trade is to hit and get hit, it is not a matter over which you should lose any sleep. Particularly when the poor and betrayed hero of Vancouver gets more than his betrayer.

Business men like Messrs. McLarnin and Ross probably laugh in secret at a public which actually pays out thousands of dollars just to see them do a night's work. Yet I dare say the average man was more interested in the outcome of the fight than the outcome of the disarmament conference. A good argument could be made, indeed, for the proposition that there never will be any disarmament or international peace while people worry for five minutes over the fact that a pug has lost his championship and got paid $58,936 in the process.

FAT AND THIN

THE OTHER night I happened to sit next to two aged, spinsterlike ladies at a local theatre when they were showing pictures of the fight.

"I think this is perfectly disgusting and I'm not going to look at it," said the fat lady.

"Neither am I," said the thin one.

"Two human brutes," said the fat one.

"Beasts, and they do it for money," said the thin one. "I wouldn't think of looking at it. What a horrible person that Ross is!"

"Yes, McLarnin is much better looking."

"I can't understand why people want to see such things. My, that was a powerful blow!"

"What was a powerful blow?"

"That McLarnin gave the other one."

"No, you're mistaken, the other one hit McLarnin. See, there he goes again! The brute!"

"But McLarnin's hit him back, right in the face! Are they allowed to hit in the face!"

"Why not, that's where it hurts most. Look at that one, right on the nose!"

"McLarnin is winning now, see him go! He's grappling with the other fellow. Why does that referee keep stepping in and separating them just when McLarnin is getting the best of it?"

"He's probably favoring that other fellow. You know what these Americans are. Hit him, McLarnin!"

"Hit him on the nose!"

"There he is, down on the floor! Kick him, McLarnin, kick him hard!"

"Oh, he's up, the brute. Hit him again!"

"Look, the referee is holding up the other fellow's hand. What does that mean? Oh, the other fellow has won. I can't believe it!"

"McLarnin was far better! Of course he was! They've robbed him! It's not fair!"

"It's an outrage, after McLarnin had done so well, too!"

"They don't know how to play the game! They don't understand clean sport over there."

"The brutes."

ICYCLES

"WELL," said the little girl from next door, standing on her head on the lawn just outside my window, "we had our dress rehearsal to-day."

"Icycles," said her brother.

"No, I'm not an icycle, I'm a snowball—in the 'cital we're going to give in the Victoria Theatre Saturday night, you know. You had ought to see me in my costume, though."

"Icycles," her brother insisted.

"No, snowballs. Well, this costume, it's got the funniest skirt you ever saw. It sticks out all around me, straight out, and is so light it looks like a feather or something. And it's so tight around my tummy that I can't hardly breathe. But it sure makes you look like a snowball all right, expecially when you put your head on the ground and your botty up."

"Icycles," said her brother.

"You silly stupid, I'm a snowball! They don't give you any pants with this costume, of course. You have to supply pants yourself. You couldn't as export and import trade.

MIER'S ARGUMENT

roughout the protracted Liberal attack the theme was a charge the bill delegated to subordinate bodies certain prerogatives which were Parliament's alone, and that it contemplated legislation by Order-in-Council that should be enacted only with the consent of Parliament.

In replying to this, Premier Bennett declared that every year it had been in office the King government enacted legislation delegating to lesser bodies of its creation the powers it now claimed were the sole prerogatives of Parliament.

If the opposition believed the government was doing wrong in delegating powers to marketing boards, then it was going against not only the highest court in the Empire, the Privy Council, but against its own policies when in power, said Mr. Bennett.

Denying charges of the opposition the bill was but a step toward a proposed centralization of marketing regulation within the empire, Mr. Bennett declared "This legislation is for Canada and Canadians."

"I have no apologies to offer for the trade agreements of 1932," the Prime Minister added. "But for those Ottawa agreements this country could barely have survived."

To the Liberal charge that minorities would be subjected to compulsion, the Prime Minister replied that every member in the House who had not been elected by acclamation was there in spite of the wishes of a minority. That was the theory of government and all the acts of Parliament were by virtue of a majority.

CALLED SOCIALISM

"This bill has been called Socialism," the Prime Minister continued. "If that is so then I have been an advocate of Socialism for a great number of years. Call it what you like—it is merely an effort to enable producers to organize and function within the provinces in an attempt to secure a reasonable return on their labor.

RALSTON SPEAKS

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Liberal, Shelburne-Yarmouth, N.S., spoke briefly at the conclusion of the Prime Minister's address. No satisfactory defence of the compulsory aspect of the bill had been advanced, he claimed. He believed many of the government's supporters would refuse to follow their leader if the principle was laid down that a man violated the law when he sold goods more cheaply than his neighbor. The Prime Minister had gone too far, he believed.

INDIAN HONOR FOR DR. BUCHMAN

Banff, Alta., June 8.—When Dr. Frank Buchman, leader of the International Oxford Group and now heading the North American house party at the Banff Springs Hotel, becomes a chief of the Stoney Tribe of Indians to-morrow, he will join a select band of three, the Duke of Connaught, the Prince of Wales and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin. This chieftainship has been jealously guarded by the Stoneys and in the history of their tribe only these three white men have been so honored. Dr. Buchman will be the fourth.

The Stoney Indians, who know something of the doctrine of the Life Changers, will bestow the picturesque name "Light In Darkness" on the new chief in a ceremony that for color will equal anything in the programme of the Oxford Group's party.

APRIL WASHER SALES TREBLED

Increased Sale of Beatty Machines in April Noted

If the increased sale of Beatty electric washers is any sign, prosperity is coming back in a hurry. Beatty Bros. Limited report that their sales in Toronto in April were three times as large as in April last year, and for the whole of Ontario, were double the sales of April a year ago.

All Beatty factories are now running ten hours a day and six days a week, nearly all departments are working overtime, and many are working on night shifts. Sales of some models have been ahead of production all spring, and the factory has had a hard time catching up. Large additons are now being made to the main factory to cope with the situation.

The Victoria branch of Beatty washers trebled its sales in April

WARM WEATHER AT COWICHAN

Lake Cowichan, June 8.—Wednesday was the warmest day of the year so far, the thermometer registering 85 degrees. Many visitors were here during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams of Australia spent several days at Greendale enjoying excellent fishing, and were so delighted with their stay here that after a visit to England they intend to come here again on their return journey.

Other guests at Greendale are Commander and Mrs. Wood, Captain Tapley, Mr. Golby, Mr. McIllrie and Brian Green, all of Victoria.

Guests at the Lakeside Hotel are Mrs. Fitzherbert-Bullen, T. N. Adnam, Mrs. Cuyler, A. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Price, Miss Gavin Burns and Mrs. F. Swinson and son, all of Victoria.

MARKET NOTES

Santa Rosa plums, which reached the city Wednesday, are among the latest comers to the fruit market. The plums come from California, and are of the red kind.

Another new arrival from California is the year's first shipment of watermelons. At an average retail price of 5½ to 6 cents per pound, they are finding a ready market

Importations of Bing cherries are continuing steadily, but locally grown fruit are beginning to find their place on the market at an unusually early date.

Other locally-grown newcomers include black currants and a few cases of raspberries.

With prices rising every day of the last week in California, local wholesalers are unable to say to just what heights the orange market is likely to rise. They report it is still very firm.

WANT CITY'S BEAUTY KEPT

Protection of Wild Flowers to Be Sought From Government By Committee

Legislation to prevent destruction of native wild flowers and plants during the spring blossoming season will be sought by a commitee of the Society for the Protection of Native Plants and Flowers which yesterday evening sponsored a large public meeting in the City Hall at which the action was decided upon.

The society is seeking support from all public organizations, many of which had delegates attending the meeting. The committee appointed will discuss various phases of what protection the government might offer, after which it will report back to the society for endorsement of its plan, before interviewing the Deputy Minister of Agriculture and the Deputy Attorney-General to seek co-operation.

The committee consists of F. B. Pemberton, chairman; Aldermen John A. Worthington and Dr. J. D. Hunter, A. R. Sherwood, C. C. French, P. R. Leighton, Mrs. Hugh McKenzie, Mrs. J. A. Lorimer, Mrs. Hebden Gillespie, H. Whiteoak, W. A. Newcombe and C. C. Pemberton.

OUTLINES AIMS

The meeting was presided over by F. B. Pemberton, who explained the objects of the society and described its work in protecting flowers and minimizing destruction of them. Delegates from various bodies expressed their appreciation of the society's work.

It was pointed out the City Council had stopped the sale of wild flowers in the public market and it was decided to approach the mayor and aldermen to determine whether or not action could be taken regarding the sale of wild flowers in private stores.

Several speakers were heard in support of the movement, including A. R. Sherwood, C. C. Pemberton, C. C. French, Dr. A. G. Price, P. R. Leighton and W. A. Newcombe.

An appeal for financial assistance from the organizations represented will be made by asking them to have their members take out memberships in the society.

LIFE ABOARD SOVIET SHIP

Labor Delegate to Russian Ice-breaker to Give Talk

Conditions on a Russian ship and a ship of any other country will be contrasted by W. Bennett, well known figure in the labor movement in British Columbia for the last thirty years, at a meeting under the auspices of the Friends of the Soviet Union in the W.E.L. Hall, 608½ Cormorant Street, this evening.

Interesting points learned by Mr. Bennett during a visit to the Soviet icebreaker Krassin to British Columbia waters recently were that some of the sailors on the Krasin have a four-hour day. The Soviet ship carries about four times as many men as the average boat sailing from United States or Canadian ports. Almost every worker on the Krassin goes to school four hours a day, for which they get paid as if they were working, whether they are studying navigation or politics.

A woman can become a captain of a Soviet ship as well as a man and some of the women members of the Krassin's crew have ambitions in that direction.

RELIEF CRISIS IN ALBERTA CITIES

Canadian Press

Calgary, June 8. — Alberta cities face the gravest crisis in their history in the next few weeks as a result of government changes in unemployment relief policy and inability of cities to finance increased demands from unemployed, according to Mayor Andrew Davison, who returned yesterday from Edmonton, where he interviewed Premier J. E. Brownlee.

The Premier had said flatly the government would pay the cities only on the basis of the quota laid down by the advisory council on unemployment set up by the Alberta Legislature.

Brentwood

Between three and four hundred people attended the dance held under the auspices of the Brentwood Badminton Club at the new sports hall at Brentwood on Wednesday evening. The hall was decorated for the occasion with flags and hanging baskets. The orchestra was in the centre of the dance floor on a dais which was decorated in a red and green color scheme. Len Acres's orchestra supplied the music and several lucky prizes were given away during the evening. Miss Zoe Milstead and Len Wagstaff gave several exhibition dances. Among the dancers were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. A. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. C. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. W. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Freeland, Mr. and Mrs. M. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. Keep a KODAK story of the children

JOAN is outgrowing her carriage. Jack is fast losing that "little boy" look. But there they are in the pictures . . . precious snapshots to keep and look at often.

Of course you'll keep up your Kodak story of the children this year. And your pictures will be clearer, more expressive than ever if you use Kodak Verichrome Film. Verichrome makes child pictures so easy to take. It eliminates the need for posing and bright sunlight. The cheaper your camera—the slower the lens—the greater the improvement you'll notice with Verichrome. Load your camera with Verichrome now. Canadian Kodak Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

HUNDREDS AT SPORTS MEET

Ladysmith, June 8.—The joint picnic of the public and high schools held at Shell Beach last Monday, attracted about 800 people, including school children.

Mayor W. W. Walkem presented the trophies.

The day was marred by an accident to Ronnie Oman, sixteen-year-old, competitor, who slipped during the pole vault and fractured his wrist.

Results of the school sports follow:

News of Clubwomen

Informal Dance—A delightful informal dance was held by the Victoria District Junior Conservative Association last night in the clubrooms, Campbell Building, in an effort to get the members acquainted. This is the second dance held by this young club, which has been organized during the past two months. Mr. H. Bapty, the president, with Mr. T. Wood, Miss Ruth Parr, Miss Millie Thomas and Miss Patricia Petherbridge, formed the committee in charge of arrangements. A three-piece orchestra supplied the music, and refreshments were served later. The proceeds will go towards the club funds.

Knox W.M.A. — Miss Jessie M. Sutherland presided at the fifteenth anniversary of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened with a missionary hymn, prayer and Scripture reading, the latter by Mrs. Ritchie. Mrs. Partington sang a solo and the Misses Peggy and Tina McPhail sang a duet, Miss Marquart at the piano. Adjutant Sharpe of the Salvation Army gave a short talk on "A Great Work." Miss Sutherland expressed the thanks of the auxiliary to the speaker, and a quartette, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," was sung by members of the Salvation Army. Mrs. F. W. Laing, in a short talk, recalled the early days of the organization, and Mrs. McIntosh, who was the first vice-president, and who came to Knox Church a bride, thirty years ago, expressed her pleasure in being present at the fifteenth anniversary. A brother of Mrs. McIntosh gave the ground for the church, which was built forty-two years ago. After the singing of a hymn, Rev. J. S. Patterson closed the meeting. Members of the Home Helpers' Circle served refreshments and Mrs. William Wilson, the oldest member of the church present, had made and cut the birthday cake.

REVELLERS HOLD DANCE TO-NIGHT

The feature novelty attraction of the Revellers' Club sixth annual flannel dance to be held at the Yacht Club to-night will be "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." The dance will be duplicated according to its presentation by Kay Kyser and his orchestra of San Francisco.

A number of other novelties have been arranged and those who attend will be assured of the entertainment for which the club has been known in presenting its regular dances. Dancing will commence at 9 o'clock and supper will be served. Tickets may be obtained from any club member.

HEATHER DAY ANNIVERSARY

I.O.D.E. Chapter to Mark Departure of First Troops For France

That the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. will again carry out the sale of heather on August 25 was decided upon at the meeting of the chapter held on Thursday, and members were asked to assist in the preparation of the heather for sale on August 24 at Municipal Chapter headquarters.

This year the actual date of the departure of the first contingent for the Great War falls on Sunday, so the heather will be sold on Saturday. Mrs. A. M. Boyd was appointed convenor of the chapter's corner on Alexandra Rose Day, June 30, and members are asked to volunteer to sell for at least an hour, and to notify Mrs. Boyd, 1528 Elford Street, Phone G 1440.

The chapter voted a contribution to the tea fund of the Girl Guides for their fete on Saturday. Mrs. T. B. Monk, soldiers' graves convener, reported having placed wreaths on the War Memorial and on the Cross of Sacrifice on Empire, and will decorate the Cross of Sacrifice during July for the chapter.

The treasurer, Mrs. James Shaw, brought in a very satisfactory report of the returns from the bridge tea held on May 4 and thanks were expressed to all who had contributed to the success of the affair. The provincial summary was read and a report given of the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter by the delegate.

Esquimalt W.I.—A whist drive will be given under the auspices of the Esquimalt Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. N. Kelly, 1357 Esquimalt Road to-morrow evening, June 9, at 8.15 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. The regular monthly meeting of the institute will be held on Tuesday, June 12, in the Parish Hall. Members are requested to attend as final arrangements will be made for the garden party.

GIRL GUIDES' FETE SATURDAY

Mrs. Alan Morkill, Provincial Commissioner, Will Take Salute

Mrs. Alan Morkill, provincial commissioner of Girl Guides, will take the salute at the garden fete to be given under the auspices of the local association of Girl Guides to-morrow afternoon at Gonzales, 615 St. Charles Street.

The march past, in which all Guide companies of the district will take part, will commence at 3 o'clock. Brownie revels will take place immediately after their ceremony.

Tea will be served during the afternoon.

A pageant, competitive games and dances will have a part in the displays by Guide companies, and the prize-winning team of First Victoria West Rangers will repeat the folk dances with which they won highest awards in the musical festival. Stalls of home cooking, candies, ice cream and novelties of all descriptions, pony rides and many interesting side shows will ensure good entertainment for patrons. There will be no charge for admission.

LADIES' CHOIR NAMES LEADERS

Mrs. M. Pebernat Re-elected President at Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Victoria Ladies' Choir was held Tuesday evening when the following officers were elected: Mrs. M. Pebernat, re-elected president; Mrs. F. J. Mitchell, vice-president; Mrs. A. P. Fryatt, recording secretary; Mrs. Wm. D. Murgatroyyd, corresponding secretary; Miss Doris Rawlins, treasurer; Miss Agnes Hood, librarian, and Miss Florence McLeod, assistant librarian. Ira Dilworth will continue as conductor, with W. H. Muncey as assistant conductor, and Miss Barbara Fraser as accompanist. Reports were read by the secretary, treasurer and Mrs. Pebernat, the president, who was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Following the election Mr. Dilworth was the recipient of a golf club from the members of the choir as a token of their appreciation of his splendid and untiring work. After adjournment the members and their friends spent the evening playing cards, after which refreshments were served under the convenership of Mrs. Grant.

RECEPTION FOR OCTOGENARIAN

Birthday Party Held For Mrs. Hannah Wall, Victoria Pioneer

MRS. HANNAH WALL

A reception was held at the home of her son, T. Geo. Wall, in Vancouver, on Thursday, June 7, in honor of the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Hannah Wall.

Mrs. Wall, widow of the late E. J. Wall, was born in San Francisco in 1854 and arrived in Victoria via sailing vessel in June 1858 and has lived in the family residence, corner Spring and Denman streets for the last fifty years. She is at present visiting her son in Vancouver, and daughter, Mrs. Pollock, at White Rock, B.C.

Many of her old Victoria friends now resident in Vancouver attended the reception, among them Mrs. Emma Snider, now in her eighty-first year.

Mrs. Wall was remembered with many floral and useful presents. The afternoon was spent with music and songs. Mrs. Wall Jr. and Mrs. Pollock rendered solos, with Mrs. Louise Galpin at the piano. Miss Margaret Wall, Miss Betty Noot and Miss B. Moore served the dainty refreshments and the birthday cake, which was cut by Mrs. Wall Sr. Letters and cards were received by Mrs. Wall from California and British Columbia points congratulating her. Mrs. Wall, despite her age, is in the best of health, enjoying all her faculties.

NEW VANCOUVER JUVENILE JUDGE

Appointment of Helen Gregory MacGill by the provincial government as judge of the juvenile court in Vancouver will become effective next Monday. The order-in-council covering the appointment was ratified yesterday at a salary of $1,200 a year. Mrs. MacGill will replace Edith Louise Paterson, whose resignation went into effect on May 31. Mrs. MacGill held the post up to five years ago.

CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY HERE

Mr. Frank J. Burd of Vancouver, managing director of The Vancouver Daily Province, and Mrs. Burd came over from the mainland yesterday afternoon to celebrate the twenty-ninth anniversary of their wedding day, an event which they very often mark by coming to Victoria, as they spent their honeymoon here. Owing to Mr. Burd's departure from Vancouver to-day with the Vancouver Board of Trade on the trip to Anyox and Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Burd returned last night to the mainland. In honor of the anniversary they were hosts at a dinner party at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening when their guests, all friends of many years' standing, were: Mr. and Mrs. Alec L. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Whillans, Mrs. Walter Fowles, Mr. B. C. Nicholas and Mr. George Perdue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Taylor, 216 Michigan Street, entertained at a children's party in honor of their son, Jackie, the occasion being his second birthday. Games were enjoyed, the prizes being won by Lucy Sparks and Desmond Cavin. The little guests later sat down to tea at a table prettily arranged with a lace cloth, cream tapers in silver sconces, and a bowl of pink rosebuds. The birthday cake with its two blue candles was the main attraction and was cut by the guest of honor. Novelty place cards and favors completed the arrangements. Little Marie McDonough said grace. The little guests included John Douglas Craig, Desmond Cavin, Gerald McDonough, "Pat" McDonough, Gerald Cavin, Donald Gibbs, Lucy Sparks, Evelyn McGonigle, Alice Sadler, Kay Parkins, and Marie McDonough. Mrs. Taylor entertained the following friends to supper: Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig, Miss F. Hildebrand, Mr. D. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gibbs, and Mrs. R. J. Gibbs. Mrs. R. J. Gibbs assisted the hostess in waiting on her little guests and friends. Guests arriving later included Mrs. D. Robertson, Mrs. C. Laing, Mrs. H. Watson, Mis Marion Watson, Mr. McGonigle and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonough. A delightful musical evening was spent. Piano and violin selections were given by Mrs. W. F. Gibbs and Mr. Fred McDonough.

RECITAL FOR MEMORIAL FUND

The annual recital of pupils of Miss Olive Campbell which will be given Saturday afternoon in the Shrine Auditorium promises to be an interesting event. First, second and third winners in the recent musical festival will be heard. The assisting artist will be Miss J. Charlebois, soprano soloist, winner in the Rose Bowl competition. Ira Dilworth will present the certificates gained at the festival. Piano and vocal solos, duets and a trio, a rhythmic orchestra, a number by tuned bells and several two-piano numbers will be featured. The proceeds will be in aid of the Dr. Harling memorial fund for which the recital is being given.

DANCE PUPILS PRESENT REVUE

Many Numbers Featured By Students of Miss Mona Jewell

The annual revue of the dance pupils of Miss Mona Jewell was held yesterday evening in the Crystal Garden when a well varied programme was presented, the first part of which was devoted to the work of the youngest children, some of whom were but two years of age.

Miss Jewell was assisted by Nancy White, Frances Borde and Beatrice Stromkins, whose advanced work was particularly delightful.

The opening number was "The Blue Danube," in which the following took part: Mona Jewell, Marjorie Turner, Nancy White, Beatrice Stromkins, Frances Borde, Nora Morrison, Sheila Grice, Margaret Welsh, Lillian Wood, Marguerite MacLeod, Joan Jarvis and Lavina White. It was a graceful and charming ballet.

This was followed by a tap dance by Doreen Nunn; Mexican dance by tinq Jean McGrath; tap dance, Corinne Earle; rainbow waltz, Frances Borde, Alberta White, Vera White, Valerie Curtis, Gladys Jones, all of whom are pupils of Frances Borde Jackie Lamb appeared in Swanee River, and Gracie Griffiths, one of the smallest children, in a Japanese dance. Vicky Palmer did a tap dance, and Vera, Hazel and Joan Pearson were smart toy soldiers. In a graceful swan dance, Nancy White took the part of the swan mother and Sheila Grice, the baby swan. Beverly McKeon brought a laugh with her comic dance and Beatrice Stromkins performed a spirited gypsy dance. In a Welsh number were the following pupils of Frances Borde—Bunty McKay, Gladys Jones and Valerie Curtis.

BABY BALLERINAS

In a tap dance, Lillian Wood and Kavina White, wore novel checked shorts. The final group of the first part was a dance performed by "Baby Ballerinas," led by Kathleen Stromkins, and the children were Sheila Grice; Vera Pearson, Marlyn Gray, Thelma Whyte, Jean McGrath, Gracia Griffiths, Mary Lou Allen, Winnie Brown, Corinne Earle and Sylvia Welsh.

SOLO DANCES

The second part of the programme opened with a sailors' hornpipe, in which Jean McGrath sang the solo and the following danced: Mona Jewell, Lillian Wood, Lavina Whyte, Thelma Whyte, Margaret Welsh, Doreen Nunn, Marjorie Turner, Jackie Lamb, Cedulia Gagnon, Nora Morrison, Hazel Pearson, Dorothy Kermode, Marguerite McLeod, Pearl Thomas, Jean Jarvis, Beverley McKeon and Ruby Foyer. Sheila Grice sang and danced in "Three Little Piggies," and Nancy White impersonated the spirit of autumn in a graceful scarf dance. The skaters' waltz was given by Frances Borde, and Mickey Mouse was charmingly impersonated by Bunty McKay, a pupil of Frances Borde, Garcia Griffiths gave a clever impersonation of Mae West and was enthusiastically encored. Helen Whyte appeared in a tap dance; Corinne Earle and Vicky Palmer, Irish dance; Margaret Welsh and Shiela Grice in "Alice in Wonderland"; Beatrice Stromkins and Nancy White, tap dance; Marguerite Newell, a pupil of Frances Borde, waltz clog; Frances Borde, the glow worm, and Mary Lou Allen in a delightful song number.

"Shuffle Off to Buffalo" was given the following taking part: Marjorie Turner, Jackie Lamb, Joan Tucker, Betty Young, Pearl Thomas, Joan Jarvis, Doreen Nunn, Helen Whyte, Joan Pearson, Ena Foyer, Nora Morrison, Margaret MacLeod and Cedulia Gagnon.

The accompanist for the evening was Winnifred Green.

MARRIED AT CUMBERLAND

Miss Bertha May Robinson and Mr. N. W. Etherington United in Marriage

Cumberland, June 8.—A pretty wedding of interest to both Cumberland and Courtenay friends of the principals was celebrated at Cumberland at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon at the United Church Manse, by the Rev. H. T. Allen, when Bertha May, sixth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson became the bride of Mr. Norman Walley Etherington, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Etherington, Cumberland.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a smart royal blue frock with white hat, and carried a bouquet of roses and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Robinson, who wore a green frock with white accessories and carried white peonies. The best man was Herbert Turner. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaid a ring.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, at Cumberland. Decorations were in blue and white, the same colors being repeated in the floral decorations of the tables. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. About fifty guests were entertained, including the following from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson, George and Margaret of Courtenay, Mr. and Mrs. McRae of Courtenay, Mr. Nairn and W. Murray, Courtenay; Mrs. Whitehouse of Royston, and Miss Slicer of Victoria.

ROSE SHOW AT DUNCAN

Duncan, June 6.—The non-competitive show of roses and sweet peas at the Agricultural Hall, Wednesday afternoon, attracted a large number of exhibitors.

Professor E. M. Straight, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, expressed his gratification at the numerous exhibits and their extreme beauty, stating he had not seen any finer on the island.

E. W. Forward, rose grower, Ladysmith, gave an interesting and instructive talk on rose culture, including location, seeding, spraying, selection of varieties, foliage and connuance of bloom. He stated that during the last year there had not been one month in which he had not had roses in bloom. The speakers were introduced by R. M. Palmer, vice-president of the horticultural branch of the Cowichan Agricultural Society, Col. Sheridan Rice, president, was also on the platform, and had much to do with the success of the show. Mrs. Rice and Mrs G. H. Townsend served tea.

Those exhibiting were: Col. S. Rice, R. M. Palmer, E. W. Forward, G. E. Townend, F. B. Carbery, W. H. Truesdale, Crosland Bros., G. H. Haddon, Mrs. Maclachlan, C. Wallich, J. Pritchard, N. T. Porter, Mrs. Hugh Savage, S. K. Matterson, Mrs. C. H. Hopkins, Mrs. Grant Colborne, Mrs. Hunt-Hogan, J. A. McKinnell, A. W. Johnson, Mr. Jamieson, Victoria; Mrs. P. P. Jaynes, Mrs. James Fleett, Mrs. A. M. White, Miss Mary Wynne, Mrs. J. Creighton, Miss Thelma West and Stella Aldersmith.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

HERE ARE RULES TO FOLLOW IN COOKING VEGETABLES

By MARY E. DAGUE

Time tables for roasting and baking and brewing and stewing have been worked out in kitchen laboratories which the beginner in cooking will find invaluable, but there are factors to be considered in the cooking of meats and vegetables that time tables cannot specify. For instance the varying maturity, time from the garden and size of materials.

To begin with generalizations. All young, freshly gathered vegetables will cook in less time than older ones. Vegetables which have wilted will take longer to cook than unwitnered ones.

Small vegetables or large ones cut in small pieces will cook more quickly than those left whole. The more surface exposed, the shorter the cooking period.

COOKING GREEN PEAS

Then the time required for preparing vegetables for cooking must be considered in the planning of the whole meal. For example, green peas should cook in twenty minutes. But if they must be shelled they are not a good vegetable to choose when dinner must be served in thirty minutes because it takes time to shell peas, longer than preparing beans or potatoes. Aside from this if they are not fresh from the garden and perfectly young and tender, they won't be done in twenty minutes, but will take thirty.

Asparagus cooks in thirty minutes and is quickly prepared. Green beans, this means either the green or yellow bean, should cook in thirty minutes if they are fresh and young and cut in diamonds. If beans break with a snap you may be pretty certain they are fresh and tender. Older beans should have their edges cut in short lengths because as the beans mature the "strings" are sure to toughen and require a long time to cook.

Remember to cook all green vegetables uncovered. Start them cooking in boiling water and serve just as soon as tender. Prolonged cooking not only causes loss of color but makes the vegetable unappetizingly soft and tasteless.

PREPARING NEW CARROTS

New carrots, cut in slices, cook tender in fifteen minutes. Diced they will take longer. Since they are lightly scraped, they are quickly prepared and only a few minutes need be allowed for their preparation.

New beets require only a thorough scrubbing before cooking and as they should cook in thirty to forty minutes, they are an excellent vegetable to use when an hour is allowed for the preparation of the meal.

Potatoes vary according to the method of cooking. Baked potatoes need an hour in an oven which registers 400 degrees F. Boiled potatoes usually need from thirty to forty-five minutes, depending on the size. Cut in half lengthwise they will cook tender in boiling water in thirty minutes.

START SENIOR MATRIC CLASS

Duncan, June 8.—The monthly meeting of the Duncan School Board was held on Wednesday evening with Trustee O. T. Smythe in the chair. A letter was received from Marygold Nash thanking the board for the presentation cup which she won at the Musical Festival at Nanaimo, and a letter from a parent requesting the board to admit her son, who will be five and a half years old in September, to school at the beginning of the September term. The board regretted to have to refuse this request, as they could not depart from the rule that that a child must be six years old at the time of entry.

The finance committee presented accounts totaling $2,943.11.

A complaint was received that a local teacher had not been given a full share of substitute teaching, and the board promised to investigate this and have the matter rectified.

Routine reports were received from the supplies and repairs committee, school management committee and transportation committee.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to the principal of the elementary school, to be conveyed to the sports committee, on the very efficient organization and management in the running of the school sports last month.

A resolution was passed authorizing the commencement of a senior matriculation class at the beginning of the 1934 term in September. Each pupil enrolled will pay $80 per annum, in two payments, $40 before commencing the course in September and a further $40 before January 1 of the following year. During the continuance of the senior matriculation class, the high school staff will be expected to work an extra period in the afternoon, for which extra period the additional sum of $8 per month is authorized, over and above regular salary. The resolution also stated that the class would not be started with less than five students enrolled at the commencement of the school year.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

BE CAREFUL IN USE OF MILK FOR BABY

In the prevention of those ailments

In the prevention of those almost important rule to remember is that milk for children must be kept ice cold until ready to use. Milk is one of childhood's most valuable foods, and it is easily contaminated and spoiled by improper handling. The conscientious dairy provides the protection at its end. It keeps all apparatus scrupulously clean, uses sterilized bottles, and delivers the milk ice cold. Then the consumer must do her share if the food is to remain at its best.

THREE STEPS

Since milk is the baby's main standby during the first six to nine months of his life, the necessity to protect it from any deterioration is clear. Our methods of preserving it demand three ceremonies: boiling the milk no matter what kind of milk it is, cooling it rapidly, and keeping it cool.

Milk is easier to digest and is infinitely safer for baby to take in hot weather when it is boiled. Boiling, then, is the first step in the prevention of summer ailments due to milk.

Then the milk must be cooled rapidly. Put the bottle or jar or pitcher containing the boiled milk into another vessel containing warm water, and pour cold water around the bottle continuously until the milk has cooled. Then put the bottled milk in the coldest part of the refrigerator or icebox until ready to use.

KEEP YOUR HEAD

How to boil milk is described in my leaflet, "Why Do We Boil Milk," which with the leaflet, "Care of Bottles and Nipples," should prove valuable to the young mother who is using bottle feedings. The two leaflets may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope accompanying each request for them.

There are all kinds of conflicting advice given young mothers, but in the interests of baby's health no one can do more in the way of prevention of milk-borne illnesses than to boil all milk, however good or clean, and then cool it and keep it cold.

The vitamin C element which is partially or wholly destroyed when milk is boiled is very simply replaced in the diet by the daily use of fresh oranges or of canned, strained tomato juice.

SOLVE MYSTERY OF SALEM HOUSE

Big Blond Man in Apron Answers Knocker on Old White House

New York, June 8.—Some motoring New Yorkers wandered into a little up-state town called South Salem the other day, inquired about a place to eat, and were directed to a lovely old white house nearby. Set in an old-fashioned garden, it did not look like a restaurant, but the callers raised the iron knocker and were greeted by a big blonde man wearing an apron.

The fellow looked dubious. He said customers were taken by appointment only, and that they had to be recommended by somebody and that calls should be made at least two hours in advance. The callers were so impressed that they went to some pains to identify themselves as being socially worthy, and said they would wait the two hours. They did wait, too, and later were glad of it.

It turns out that the cook is Herman Smith, who used to be technical and costume director for Famous Players. He is also a writer and sells Oriental short stories to highbrow magazines. He has a partner in the restaurant business—Richard Hall, actor and singer. The house is more than 200 years old, is filled with priceless pine furniture made by the Shakers, and belongs to Julia Force, who is art manager for Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney.

Smith and Hall do everything—keep house, garden, market, cook, wait on table, and even wash and iron. They started the enterprise during the depression, just to have something to do, and now are turning down more customers than they serve. Smith, a strapping six-footer, is an artist at cookery; makes up recipes as he goes along and sometimes cannot remember how to duplicate them. Wealthy people drive 100 miles to sample his sauces. On hot days he serves green and white foods, orange and red foods on gloomy days. No liquor, except maybe a very little wine. When he is in the mood he paints pictures on the plates.

Says Teachers New Crusaders

Minister of Education Wishes Normal Graduates Success in New Social Order

"Roasted in politics and toasted in education," as he put it, Hon. George M. Weir, Provincial Minister of Education, paid his first visit to the Victoria Normal School yesterday evening to join the staff and students in their farewell banquet. Approximately 125 enjoyed the function, which included musical selections and toasts.

He found it very difficult to say anything very cheerful to the students, Dr. Weir stated, but added he wished the graduating class the best of those positions which were available.

In the old days, he noted, the Normal School graduate was faced with five or six posts and had the option of selecting the best paid. At present the opposite extreme had been reached as far as the labor market for that profession was concerned.

The country and world in general had reached a point where the social and economic structures were undergoing a violent change tantamount to a revolution. The graduates, he stated, went forth as crusaders in a shaken world, as leaders of a new social order. "I wish you godspeed," he added.

WOULD FACE REACTION

The prospective teachers would face reaction, would face the school of argument that two and two made four in a world in which that no longer always held, he noted, drawing an analogy by citing the case of four drops of mercury coalescing to form one. Theories which had formerly been considered fundamentals were not always applicable in the world of to-day, he said.

As the intellectual cream of society, it would be the duty of the Normal young teachers going out to locate graduates to go forth to lead the world to a higher, saner level.

Dr. Weir referred to the tragedy of positions that did not exist.

He turned his attention briefly to adult education, noting the promotion of that phase of education was one of the most helpful in bringing about a realization of values.

He warned them against the fear complex and the greed they would meet in the world.

After sketching the comparatively small expenditure on education in Canada, he bade them sally forth to make a real contribution to social reconstruction.

TOAST TO DEPARTMENT

His remarks formed the reply to the toast to the Department of Education proposed by Florence M. Morton, a member of the student body. Miss Morton spoke of the graduates' appreciation of the facilities, tangible and intangible, bestowed upon them by the department. As prospective teachers they looked forward to making some restitution to the province through their work among the young of British Columbia. She voiced the students' gratitude for the manner in which teachers' salaries had been safeguarded, for the beauties of schools and for the work the department had done in forwarding the cause of education.

In a lighter vein George R. Gravlin, on behalf of the students, sponsored a toast to the visitors and the staff, thanking criticizing teachers for their valuable remarks during the practical side of the Normal School training and voicing a tribute to the staff for its work.

PLEASANT INFLUENCE

H. S. Hurn, replying for the visitors, referred to the refreshing influence of having Normal students teaching in the schools. He urged them to retain their sense of humor. They would have need of it in the future, he added. Dr. H. Southam delightfully referred to their coming duties as teachers, telling the students to make their pupils feel as much at home as they had their guests of the evening.

V. L. Denton, principal of the school, acted as toastmaster, introducing the various speakers.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

The programme was opened by a fine male choral number by members of the student body under the direction of James Petch.

Donald Wood was heard later in a violin solo, "Berceuse from Jocelyn," and a splendid encore.

Closing the programme the massed mixed choir of the school presented "Come to the Fair," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "On the Road to Mandalay."

The tables were tastefully decorated with floral bowls by members of the domestic science classes.

Guests of the evening included: Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Weir, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Willis, Captain and Mrs. F. G. Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Creelman, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hurn, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Routledge, Miss H. Stewart, G. A. Turner, School Inspector Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Denton, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. C. Wickett, Dr. H. LEAVING FOR COURT PRESENTATION

Lady Gloria Vaughan, who has been described as a perfect type of Latin beauty and is considered to be one of the three most beautiful debutantes of the season, was presented at the First Royal Court of the year at Buckingham Palace. Lady Gloria is the daughter of the Earl and Countess of Lisburne. She is shown here with her parents leaving for the palace.

Ladysmith

Ladysmith, June 8.—The death occurred Wednesday morning at the family residence at Saltair of Frank Herbert Thicke, aged forty-nine years.

Born in England, the late Mr. Thicke resided in Ladysmith for the last thirty-nine years. Besides his sorrowing widow he leaves to mourn his loss four sons, Alvin, Rolla, B.C.; Christie, Alexander and Douglas, at home; one daughter, Addie, Vancouver; four brothers, Charles and Horace, Lantzville; David and Alfred, Vancouver; two sisters, Mrs. G. Copley, Lantzville, and Mrs. B. Black, Hollywood, Cal. He was a member of St. John's Lodge No. 21, A.F. and A.M., under whose auspices funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 1.30 at St. John's Anglican Church, Ladysmith. The officiating clergymen will be Rev. B. E. Spurling, Rev. E. O. Robathan, Chemainus, and Rev. E. M. Cook, Chemainus.

Nanaimo

Nanaimo, June 8.—The monthly meeting of the I.O.D.E., Bastion Chapter, was held in the Canadian Legion Hall Tuesday afternoon with the regent, Mrs. C. H. Barker, presiding. New members welcomed to the chapter were Mesdames L. Jones, Mrs. O. Ingham, Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Breckenridge.

Plans were formulated for the annual garden, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Dr. Forrester, Newcastle Townsite, on June 20.

The sum of $10 was voted to the Public Health Nursing Council. It was reported that the sum of $114 had been collected for Alexandra Rose Day. Mrs. Spencer gave an interesting talk on "Some Faces About the I.O.D.E. War Memorial."

Committees were appointed for the Christmas fair. Meetings were adjourned until September.

DIPLOMAT QUITS TO RUN CAFE

London, June 8.—Mr. Clark Ogilvie-Grant, a member of the ancient Scottish family of which Lord Strathcpey is the head, has left diplomacy to become a restaurant manager.

Not yet thirty, he was for three years honorary attache to Sir Percy Loraine, the British High Commissioner in Egypt. Although he had intended to make a career in the diplomatic service, he changed his mind on returning to this country from Cairo and decided to go into business.

He has recently taken up a post at the Cafe de la Paix as assistant to Mr. Bruni, the managing director.

WOMAN SHERIFF HUNTS BANDIT

Associated Press

Crown Point, Ind., June 8.—Sheriff Lillion Holley wants to vindicate herself and to that end she is still hunting for John Dillinger, the desperado who walked out of her Lake County jail March 5.

She has spent $1,000 of her own money, she revealed, to follow up tips from people who think they know where the bandit is hiding.

Duncan

Duncan, June 8. — The monthly meeting of the Cowichan Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was held at the home of Mrs. F. R. Gooding on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. F. W. Galloway in the chair. It was decided that the chapter's contribution to the prizes at the Cowichan fall fair in September should be devoted to a special one for the best collection of British Empire stamps and British Empire aerial stamps.

A vote of thanks was passed to Admiral R. Nugent for addressing the school children on Empire Day. Reports were received from the educational convener, the health centre, hospital and sweet pea festival.

A letter of thanks for the two boxes sent was received from the chapter's adopted family in Peace River.

Mrs. Deykin was enrolled as a new member.

GOLF AT DUNCAN

Duncan, June 8.—In a friendly match played between a team from the Colwood Golf Club and the Cowichan Golf Club, here on Wednesday, the home team won 18 to 12. Those taking part were as follows:

Miss P. Hogan 2, Mrs. Bennett 1.
Miss J. Duncan 2½, Mrs. Abell ½.
Miss Bond 2, Mrs. Richardson 1.
Mrs. Morten ½, Mrs. Crowe 2½.

Ganges

Ganges, June 8.—A special meeting was held at Mr. Brown's residence on Mahon Hill Wednesday afternoon to complete arrangements for entertaining the members of the Diocesan Board of the W.A., who will visit the island next Wednesday.

After ten days' visit to his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Lawson, at Ganges, Mr. Wilfred Lawson has left for his home in Regina.

Mrs. A. Inglis, Vesuvius Bay, was a visitor to Victoria this week.

T. Noble, Quathiaski, arrived on the island on Tuesday and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, Ganges Harbor.

Organized by the committee of the Salt Spring Island Football Club, a successful dance was held in Mahon Hall on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Neil Hayes, Vancouver, have been visiting Mrs. Hayes's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson, at Central Salt Spring.

Mrs. E. Benzie has left Ganges to spend a few days in Vancouver.

M.P.'S ASSAIL MOSLEYITES

Four Members Accuse British Fascists of "Unnecessary Violence"

Canadian Press

London, June 8.—Considerable indignation was expressed to-day over rioting that developed yesterday evening at a meeting of Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascists. Four members of the House of Commons wrote a letter to The Times accusing the Fascists of a "deplorable outrage against public order."

Fighting, which began before the meeting, became intense, and more than 100 persons were injured, some seriously, as combatants wielded razor blades, slashing their opponents and tearing their clothes from their backs. Twenty or more persons were arrested.

The trouble started outside the Olympia Hall in the West End when a group of about 100 demonstrators, said to have been Communists, jeered members of Sir Oswald's audience, who arrived at the meeting place in evening dress. Police broke up the disturbance with a baton charge.

When Sir Oswald started to speak he was heckled vigorously.

"UNNECESSARY VIOLENCE"

Three Conservative members of the House of Commons, T. J. O'Connor, J. S. Wedderburn and W. J. Anstruther-Gray, and one Independent, E. Scrymgeour, said in their letter they saw uniformed Fascists practice "wholly unnecessary" violence on interruptors.

Property damage was slight, and police quelled the outbreak.

An immense crowd, seemingly about equally divided between supporters and curious onlookers, jammed the hall. When the heckling began blackshirt lieutenants pounced on disturbers and ejected them. Fist fights grew numerous and became protracted outside the hall.

FILM STAR SUED BY HER PARENTS

Sued by her parents for support, Mary Astor (above), the motion picture actress, pledged she would maintain them "in comfort but not extravagance." Miss Astor, wife of a Hollywood surgeon, declared, "They insist on living in a mansion. . . . I've begged them to cut down expenses, but they won't.

WHAT ONE GIRL WORE

By BETTY BROWNLEE

A charming and cool summer suit fashioned of grey heavy linen crash. The jacket has four patch pockets and is yoked, back and front. The back also features an inverted pleat. The skirt is cut on straight, slender lines. Worn with a navy foulard blouse printed with a grey pin dot, the ensemble is striking.

It's a cotton summer again. Morning, noon and night we can meet every occasion of the summer day clad in cool fabrics. For morning wear there are lovely plaid ginghams, striped percales, piques, and linens that are fresh and crisp to look at and comfortable to wear.

Afternoon sees us attired again in linen—but this time in a dressier frock. Or perhaps we prefer a dainty dress or eyelet embroidery or a youthful dotted Swiss model.

And evenings grow cooler and gayer in plaid organdies, tailored piques, or sheer cotton crepes. The printed organdies in use this season to fashion some of the formal frocks are especially attractive. Bright colors on white backgrounds are cheerful and effective.

The white pique coat has become almost a necessary addition to the summer wardrobe. It may be worn for sports occasions, may be used over an afternoon dress, and is equally appropriate for formal wear.

The girl who loves a tailored suit but finds that her spring model is rather warm as the days grow longer, will find pleasure in one of the new cotton models. There are youthful suits of linen, pique or sheer crepe that are lovely.

Sketched to-day is a charming suit of grey heavy crash linen. The short jacket features four patch pockets and a yoked front and back. The skirt is straight and slim and is worn with a navy foulard blouse printed with a grey pin dot.

Navy gloves, a navy hat and a leather bag of the same color complete the effective ensemble.

Median, Pa., June 8.—It was bad enough when her husband struck her with a candlestick, a cake dish, a coffee pot, a floor mop and a floor lamp, Mrs. Florence McClay of Upper Darby, testified in domestic relations court. But, said Mrs. McClay, when he slammed her with a cat—a black cat to boot—it was grounds for divorce. The judge agreed.

COLONEL'S WIFE PIONEER GIRL

Mrs. Cockburn, Buried at Cowichan Station, Was Widely Known

Cowichan Station, June 8.—The Rev. W. E. Cockshott officiated at the funeral from St. Andrew's Church here of Marie Antoinette, wife of Col. L. W. S. Cockburn of Mill Bay. The honorary pallbearers were G. Owens, C. Wallich, W. Mason, A. Miller, P. Mitchelin and A. Robertson. The active pallbearers were Jack Frumento, J. McPherson, R. Colvin, W. Bartlett, J. Jones and H. A. Heywood.

Mrs. Cockburn, who passed away in the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, at the end of last week, was a daughter of one of the first white men to come to live at Cowichan Bay and was one of the best known women in the central part of the island, having lived in the Cowichan district fifty-seven years. She went to Cowichan Bay when very young with her father, G. B. Ordano, who, a native of Italy, went out to San Juan Island, where Marie Antoinette was born. Her father's store and hotel, the latter known as the John Bull Inn, which Mr. Ordano took over from John Harris at Cowichan Bay, were the first in the district. She was a well-known horsewoman, with her thoroughbreds for years being a feature of western tracks.

For some years Mrs. Cockburn kept a hotel at Cowichan Station until it burned down. Lately she had been living at Mill Bay. She had been ill for some eight months and for two months was a patient in the Duncan Hospital. Then she was taken to Victoria where she was in hospital for ten days.

Mrs. Cockburn leaves two sons, Mr. David Frumento, San Francisco, and Mr. Jack Frumento, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. Jack Jones, Victoria, and Mrs. Harry Heywood, Cowichan Station; and ten grandchildren. She also leaves two brothers, Capt. B. Ordano, Victoria, and Mr. Joseph Ordano, Chemainus; and one sister, Miss C. Ordano, Cowichan Station.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1934

Stimulating and energizing planetary influences rule to-day, according to astrology. It is primarily encouraging to persons in authority.

While the stars are said to inspire restlessness and impatience among persons of all classes, it is presaged the year will bring reassurance to workers and capitalists.

The inclination toward intrigue and secret propaganda will be less marked through the coming months, astrologers prognosticate. Political and social chess games will be played more openly.

This is an auspicious day for seeking counsel or support from persons in superior position. It may even be lucky for those who seek positions.

France and Germany are under adverse influences of the stars which bode ill for peace and progress. Saturn frowns upon the financial affairs of France, which will be the scene of sensational occurrences.

The sun in Adolph Hitler's horoscope seems to promise continued power for a period, but he is seemingly not to have a long life. He will retain his place as dictator, however, until he has had many troubled times, including trouble with Poland.

According to a London astrologer the United States and England may suffer losses through continental reprisals in trade.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune through work. Promising news is expected.

Children born on this day probably will be energetic and emotional. Subjects of this sign may have artistic as well as practical gifts.

John Howard Payne, author of "Home Sweet Home," was born on this day, 1791. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Sylvanus Thayer, soldier and founder of the Thayer School of Civil Engineering at Dartmouth College, 1785.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

NEA SERVICE, INC.

The trainer and the little acrobat waited downstairs in silence while the doctor worked over Donna. Con paced the floor, puzzling over how the accident could have occurred. He asked Madeline if Donna had suddenly grown dizzy, if she had been ill.

To all these questions the girl answered, "I don't know." To accuse Ned Trafford was to cast blame on herself and admit a flirtation of which she was now heartily ashamed. And, after all, she did not know Trafford had done anything.

It was after midnight when Dr. Cotton informed them that Donna had recovered consciousness and was asleep. "I'm pleased to say there is no internal injury. There's a slight concussion, two broken ribs and a broken leg and a slight fracture in one wrist. Of course, the shock adds complications, but with her constitution she should pull through it."

Con burst into hysterical sobs, revealing his Latin temperament. He seized Madeline in his arms and kissed her again and again. "I've got to go on with the show," Madeline said, wriggling out of his arms. "I must see her before I leave, doctor."

"To-morrow, then."

"No, the train leaves to-night."

Madeline hesitated. Duty urged her to stay behind with her partner. Her heart bade her go on with Con. There was a small writing desk near a window and on it were ink, pen and stationery. Madeline crossed to the desk, sat down and composed two letters. The first was addressed to Donna and read:

"Donna, darling: The doctor says you will be well soon and on your feet and Renfroe says I have to go on with the show. I know you will understand my running off like this. We'll need every penny to pay hospital bills. I'll write you every day. Oh, Donna, I'm just heartsick that this had to happen! Of course, I'm to blame. I'm sure Ned did it but there's no way to prove it.

"Now, listen, honey, you're going to get well and you're going to perform again, but it won't be next week or next month, so I'm writing Bill Siddal to come and take you to the farm. I'm signing the letter 'Donna,' and calling you, 'Madeline.' Don't fall down on this. It's your chance to regain your strength and have the right care. And Grandfather will love having you there.

Your loving 'sister,' Madeline."

The second letter was shorter.

"Dear Mr. Siddal: Madeline fell from the trapeze to-night and was badly injured, though the doctor says she will live and be in condition to be moved from the hospital in short time. I am sure she will r cover quickly with her family a advise you to come for her at t earliest possible time. She is at M Marvin Cotton's sanatorium.

"Sincerely, Donna Gabriel."

She gave the letters to the physician. "Will you please see that th are mailed?" she asked. "The fam will take care of all expenses." S salved her conscience on the l score. Everything Grandfather p sessed would be Madeline's some d so in reality she was paying for Do na's care.

"Where can I get in touch w you?" Dr. Cotton asked, weighi the letters in one hand.

"Give him the route card, Co And, doctor, let me know how she Wire me to-morrow collect and t her I'll write every day."

CHAPTER VII

A funereal pall, thick and hea hung over the circus. The crew tra with tents and stakes and poles a apparatus, had departed by the ti Con and Madeline reached the s ing where the Pullmans stood, b the performers stood in little grou on the tracks or platform with no i tention of retiring so early. Renf paced the graveled roadbed, his han jammed in his pockets, his bl brows meeting in a scowl. La Be Matilde, his wife, sat on a heavy su case.

"Well, what's the verdict?" Renf demanded when the couple a proached.

Madeline told him what the doc had said. "It will be a long ti before she can work," she add "I'm going to send her home as so as she's able to travel."

Renfroe kicked viciously at a sm rock. "Your act will be lousy wi out her," he muttered. "Now have to find a new aerial turn."

"You mean you're going to let out?" Madeline exclaimed.

"What else can I do? You're a n kid, but you know the rules. I do mean right away, of course—"

"But, Mr. Renfroe—!" Madelin hands were clammy. "There'll be t hospital bills—"

"I thought your folks were well-do? Well, never mind. We'll talk over in the morning."

There was little time for Madel to consider what he had said, for t others crowded about to ask abo Donna. For the next twenty minu she was busy answering their qu tions. Con slipped away, to sta alone on a rear platform, nursing grief.

ONE BIG NRA CODE PLANNED IN THE U.S.

By James Cope, Associated Press Writer

Washington, June 8. — The NRA will announce soon one big "ready-made" code for several hundred miscellaneous United States industries, whose pacts have not been completed.

This basic code will be almost as simple as the President's reemployment agreement with which the Blue Eagle started its flight a year ago. Aims to give the minor industries regulations which will be easily enforced, yet reach the NRA's chief objectives. These are:

Shorten hours to make more jobs; wages not below living levels; recognition of labor's right to organize and bargain; prohibition of commercial dishonesty and the obvious forms of unfair trade practice.

The small, secondary industries will be given an opportunity to subscribe voluntarily. If they want more elaborate trade practice regulation they will be required to present the signed assents of 85 per cent of their firms.

SIMPLIFICATION DESIRED

officials have pushed toward completion a plan to consolidate scores of codes already approved. In the end there will be not more than 300 codes in place of 450 already approved.

The "ready-made" or "clean-up" code plan arose from the discovery that codifying the small industries had been absorbing a disproportionate amount of time and money, which should be devoted to major problems. The more codes, the greater the administrative load. For instance, there are nine separate pacts for button makers.

Under the "clean-up" code there will be no more public hearings, no more protracted negotiations. In addition to the 450 codes approved, the NRA has nearly 500 in negotiation.

Aviation Debate In the Senate

Ottawa, June 8.—The senate yesterday heard a debate on aviation launched by Hon. J. A. McDonald, Independent, Nova Scotia, who claimed Canada had the finest airmen in the world and the poorest air services. He said the government could do something by way of subsidies and by establishing air mail services to encourage aviation.

go without pants even in a 'cital, could you?"

"Icycles," said her brother.

"Oh, he means icycles," said her sister. "You know there are icycles in the 'cital as well as snowballs. The icycles are the thin ones and the snowballs are the fat ones. Us snowballs we just roll in at the beginning and it doesn't last long. But the icycles, they have to stand there, all stiff and straight, all evening. They're all dressed up shiny and nice."

"Icycles all melt," her brother suggested.

"No, not these ones," she said, "'cause they're not icycles really. But you know that brother of mine there, well he went to the dress rehearsal to-day and he kept running up and down the aisles of the theatre and yelling 'Icycles! Icycles! Icycles!' and then he sneaked up on a snowball and bit it right in the leg. Boy, did the snowball yell!"

"Haw!" said her brother with what might be properly called a gleam of fiendish glee.

"So we're not going to take him to the real 'cital on Saturday. You never know, he might bite an icycle or something and spoil the whole show. Those thin icycles, they're kind of nervous and jumpy anyway, you know. But, boy, you had ought to see my costume, with the silver ribbons and everything on to it! Why it leaves your back all bare until you're nearly naked. It's almost as bare and naked as the grown-up ladies wear!"

"Icycles," said her brother.

JAMES KEELEY, CHICAGO, DIES

Famous Leader of Daily Tribune Made Many "Scoops", Lately With Pullman Co.

Chicago, June 8. — James Keeley, noted Chicago editor, whose scoops afield and coups from the managerial desk of The Chicago Tribune brought him world-wide fame, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage after months of failing health. He was born in London, England, sixty-six years ago.

At the turn of the century, Keeley astonished fellow editors, when the Iroquois Theatre burned with a loss of 575 lives in December, 1903, by publishing on his front page the entire death list. To the inside pages he relegated the story of the catastrophe, believing Chicago readers were primarily interested in the names of the dead.

Perhaps Keeley's most famous feat was his trailing of Paul O. Stensland, a defaulting Chicago banker. He followed Stensland to a little Moroccan town and brought him back to trial and conviction. Later Keeley was an avid friend in helping Stensland gain a pardon.

Keeley had been a newsboy in London. He came to Chicago in the late 80's, got himself a job as police reporter on The Tribune and hoisted himself through the editorial hierarchy to managing editor and general manager. He occupied those posts till 1914. From then until 1918 he was editor of The Chicago Daily Herald. Later he was assistant to the president of the Pullman Company, and of late years had been vice-president of the same company.

ST. MICHAEL'S

A successful "jitney concert" was held recently, presented by St. Michael's A.Y.P.A. The programme included songs by Mrs. Bamfield, accompanied by Miss Helen King; piano solos by Miss Ursula Hills; a fashion parade, in which fashions from the "Gay Nineties" to the present day were aired by the Misses Rosa Stone, Elsie Grandberg, Kathleen Butt, Dora Young, Helen Arnott, Ruth Grandberg and Joy Doyle, to the accompaniment of music by Miss Helen Riley. "Romeo and Juliet, 1934 style"; "A Lean Dog"; "A Quiet Evening at Home" and "Lord Ullin's Daughter"; four hilarious farces, featuring Miss Joy Doyle, Miss Kathleen Butt, Miss Rosa Stone, Miss Helen Arnot, Mr. Howard Menzer, Mr. Earle Thompson, Mr. Dick Oldfield, Mr. Frank Doyle and Mr. Neil Duval.

Mr. F. Caries, as master of ceremonies, kept the audience guessing with a variety of witty questions, and also introduced community singing, Miss Ruth Grandberg at the piano. Mr. Lyndsay Towler manipulated the curtain with masterful precision, and provided wonderful sound effects. A short address was given by Rev. F. Comley, the rector, after the entertainment, following which refreshments were served.

The proceeds of the concert are to help St. Columba's A.Y.P.A., in their drive for new prayer books for St. Columba Church.

QU-ALEX CLUB

An enjoyable evening was spent recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gurney, 3020 Quadra Street, when the members of the W.B.A. Qu-Alex Girls' Club entertained their friends at a bridge and court whist party. There were eleven tables in play, six of bridge and five of whist. The prizes for the cards were awarded to the following: Bridge, first, Miss Evelyn Stephens and Miss Minnie Roff; consolation, Mrs. Elliott and Mr. Louis H. Schmelz. Whist, first, Miss Lillian Laird and Mrs. Entwhistle; consolation, Mesdames Brown and C. Yeamans. A mystery box was won by Mrs. A. Taylor. At the conclusion of the cards dainty refreshments were served by the girls, assisted by Mrs. L. Schmelz, Mrs. M. Laird and Mrs. S. Gurney. An impromptu dance by some of the young people brought the delightful evening to a close. A very hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Gurney for her kinduess in lending her home to the club. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. L. Schmelz, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gurney, Mr. and Mrs. John Lucurell of Seattle (nee Lucile Delaiaye), the Mesdames D. W. Burnett, McNeil, C. Yeamans, Savident, Upward, Entwhistle, N. Brown, Frazer, Taylor, R. C. Malcolm, G. H. Bowden, M. Laird, Colaman, Gough, Elliott, Dresser, Freestone, E. Watson, the Misses D. Appleby, L. Laird, K. Ramsay, I. Summers, B. Taylor, M. Smith, P. MacDonald, D. Basanta, C. Schmelz, K. Burnett, A. Reid, A. Applegate, D. Vye, B. Hunter, M. Rogers, M. Roff, E. Stephens, Williams, McMahon, E. Warder, M. Morris and Messrs. L. Entwhistle, W. Hughes, L. Schmelz Jr. and H. Herburger.

LILY PONS TO MARRY SURGEON

Associated Press

Buenos Ayres, June 8.—Wedding chimes are to ring out again for Lily Pons—but the soprano's next marriage aria, her third, is still a year off.

The New York Metropolitan Opera star had announced to-day that she has set her next wedding date for July 9, 1935. Her next partner in the duet of domesticity will be Dr. Fritz von der Becke, a physician on the Sa. Capricona.

Are You on a Diet?

Then make sure of complete elimination

One thing can absolutely ruin the effect of even the most carefully followed diet. That one thing is taking it for granted that your eliminative processes are functioning perfectly.

You may be quite regular. But regularity is not necessarily completeness. For a diet to achieve its full effect—whether it be to get rid of unwanted fat or to restore robust health—it must be accompanied by certainty of daily and complete elimination of body wastes.

To be sure of complete elimination, make the Andrews Rules of Health a part of your diet. Work and sleep with your windows open. Take daily exercise in the fresh air. Don't worry. Get all the sleep you need. And, once or twice each week, take a delicious, invigorating, effervescing glass of Andrews Liver Salt.

Andrews has a very definite beneficial effect on the stomach lining, a soothing and sedative effect on the digestive organs. An occasional pleasant-tasting glass of Andrews ends the insidious danger of unsuspected constipation by insuring not only regular, but complete, daily elimination of food wastes and poisons. Andrews thus helps make your diet fully effective.

Follow these rules faithfully and you will know better, more active health. Get Andrews Liver Salt from your druggist now, in tins at 35c and 60c, in the new, large bottle at 75c. Sole Agents John A. Huston Co., Ltd., Toronto. 27

TO CARRY ON DROUGHT WAR

U.S. Officials Not to Slacken $625,000,000 Programme Because of Rain

Associated Press

Washington, June 8.—A warning the drought in the United States still is a disaster despite continuing rain prompted the relief administration to-day to carry on with its $625,000,000 programme.

Without waiting for Congress to act, President Roosevelt instructed Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, to proceed with the programme. The President will ask Congress for the money soon.

Reports of rain and predictions of more brought little cheer to the Department of Agriculture.

The extent of the damage to crops was to be told to-day in the Agriculture Department's monthly crop report. Its release was moved forward from the regular publication date to give the federal relief officials new information.

St. Paul, Minn., June 8.—Rain drummed a dance of dollars on the sun-baked farm lands of the northwest to-day.

Worth $50,000,000 by one expert's estimate in North Dakota alone, the steady downpour flooded fields in nearly every section of the drought-seared states of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace conferred here to-day with drought-relief directors and announced that despite the break in the drought the federal government would continue its relief programme.

One man was killed in a small tornado at Mitchell, S.D.

"Eczema broke out on my child's forehead in watery pimples. The skin was red and inflamed and itched so that he would scratch and it would cause a sore eruption. It made him restless so that he could not sleep and it disfigured his face.

"He had the eczema three weeks before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the fourth application I could see they were helping and before I had used one box of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Arthur Peach, Mount Denson, Nova Scotia.

BUSINESS has many barometers and some speedometers.

The volume of newspaper advertising, for instance, is one of these speedometers; it shows how fast trade is moving.

Watch the newspaper advertisements. Gradually they are increasing in number as business steps into second speed. Merchants and manufacturers feel a quickening public interest in buying; they are reaching out to catch that interest.

Their advertisements are worth following closely these days because they contain news of unusual importance to every shopper.

Following the news has become a habit in our lives; almost like breathing or eating. Our conversation, our opinions, our actions are based on what we read in newspapers.

Advertising in the newspapers is, for this reason, more than advertising. It is part of the force that is generated by the great dynamo of news—the force by which people act and think.

Newspaper advertising, like the news, is born fresh daily—timed to the minute—sparkling with the energy and action of each day's events.

It reaches virtually everyone who can be reached at all by any advertising, because whatever else people do, they read the newspapers today and will read them again tomorrow.

Newspaper advertising gets to everybody every day—and gets there FIRST.

POPULAR PAIR AT DOMINION

D. Powell and Ginger Rogers Have Lead in "Twenty Million Sweethearts"

A brand new romantic team comes to the screen in the persons of Dick Powell and Ginger Rogers, who appear as screen lovers in "Twenty Million Sweethearts," the First National picture which opens at the Dominion Theatre to-day.

No more popular couple could appear together than these, who work in perfect harmony. Both have won their spurs as popular screen players as well as singers of exceptional ability.

Powell rose to screen fame from an orchestra leader through such pictures as "Forty-second Street," "Footlight Parade," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Wonder Bar" and others.

Ginger, the titian-haired beauty, first made her hit on the musical comedy stage and later in pictures, including the musicals of "Gold Diggers of 1933" and "Forty-second Street."

JOE E. BROWN TO SHOW HERE

Many interesting and amusing games of chance are played in the gambling room sequences of "A Very Honorable Guy," the First National picture which will open to-morrow afternoon at the Capitol Theatre with Joe E. Brown in the leading role.

All the games are in operation in a single room and more equipment was needed than the studio property department could supply. A hurry call was sent to a large Los Angeles concern dealing in such furnishings, and a truckload of tables, chuck-a-luck "cages" and other oddments were promptly dispatched to the First National lot.

"A Very Honorable Guy" is the hilarious story of a tinhorn gambler who is so honorable he stakes his life to pay a debt. It was written by Damon Runyan, famous sports writer, and adapted to the screen by Earl Baldwin.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Paul Kirkland and Company in "Sensations on Ladders" provides some thrilling entertainment on the Levey Orpheum vaudeville programme at the Empire Theatre to-day. Other featured acts are Nelson's Katland with Miss Billy May and "the World's Famous Boxing Cats," Monroe Brothers "the Bouncing Comedians," Lorraine and Digby in a clever comedy novelty, Tarry Cody "the Ukelele Jockey from Dixie," and "Fog."

The screen attraction is a vivid drama set in mid-ocean starring Reginald Denny and Mary Brian.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

"Day of Reckoning," based on a startling story of modern prisons written by Morris Lavine, former metropolitan newspaper man, is now at the Playhouse Theatre with Richard Dix starred. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature is reported to be a dramatic record of what occurs "behind the doors" of a man's home after he is sent to prison.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

LEHAR MUSIC FOR BALLET

The music of some of the famous masters of the waltz will be the accompaniment for several of the ballets and revues to be presented to-morrow evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre by the pupils of the Russian Ballet School, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson.

Franz Lehar, whose most famous work is "The Merry Widow," wrote a great number of waltz melodies, one of which will be used for the Gold and Silver ballet, which will be the outstanding number on the programme.

Where To Go To-night

As Advertised

Capitol — McLarnin-Ross Fight Pictures.

Dominion—Dick Powell in "Twenty Million Sweethearts."

Playhouse—James Dunn in "Hold That Girl."

PLAY TO-NIGHT AT THE SHRINE

The curtains to be used in the first act of John Drinkwater's play, "Bird in Hand," to be presented to-night at the Shrine Auditorium by the Victoria Little Theatre Association, are the same curtains which were used by John Drinkwater's original company when it played in this city several years ago.

The producers of the play have taken the greatest care to represent authentically an old English inn. The sets will be most interesting to those who appreciate the furniture and ornaments of the old days. Some rare pieces of old blue Spode china grace a corner cupboard. The accounts of the inn are made up at a desk over 250 years old. Pewter mugs, the subdued friendly glow of old copper kettles and the gleam of a beautiful brass fire-screen all do their charming best to please the eyes of the discriminating beholder.

The caste, which has put in almost 100 hours at rehearsals, consists of Leslie Lamb, Gwen Downes, Elaine Rowe, Roy Shadbolt, Vaughan Barker, Fraser Lister, H. F. Hewett, Hugh Allan and Miss Audrey Wood.

Those assisting the director, Charles Ozard, are: Christine McNab, Evelyn Ozard, Hugh Creelman, Maurice Green and Leo Marston.

FISHING BOAT IS UNLOCATED

Searchers on the British Columbia coast are still seeking the whereabouts of the United States halibut fishing boat Katalla, which has been missing for more than two weeks from its Seattle headquarters, where it was due last month. The craft is forty-nine feet long and was last seen near Gander Island in the Queen Charlotte Sound area. Provincial police are lending all assistance possible with their patrol boat.

CELEBRATION GROUP NAMED

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins to Head Organization of Dominion Day Events Here

In preparation for Victoria's celebration of Dominion Day on July 2, those interested in the event yesterday evening gathered at the City Hall to elect a competent and energetic general committee to draft rough plans for the event.

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, chairman of the celebration last year, was re-elected as leader of the organizing body for the event.

Edwin C. Smith, city treasurer, will care for the financial end of the event, R. D. MacLachlan will act as secretary and Mayor David Leeming and Reginald Hayward will be honorary chairmen.

George Dyson was named convener of a special committee on the musical end of the programme, with Arthur H. Cox, leader of rowing circles here, being appointed to the chairmanship of the regatta group and prizes committee. Charles Fea will look after the baseball interests and Alderman J. D. Hunter will act as chairman of the finance committee. Ray Ditchburn was appointed chairman of the sports group.

FEATURES PLANNED

Features planned for the event include two baseball games, probably in the morning and evening of July 2, between the Sons of Canada and an outside team, and the J.B.A.A. annual regatta, one of the major events of the city's rowing season. A highlight of the latter event will be the Through Victoria fours for the Native Sons of Canada Trophy. An eights race may also be included on the programme if arrangements can be made with a Washington club.

A special competition for decorated bicycles and fancy dress costumes will be held in the morning at the Athletic Park, it is understood, preceding the children's sports, which are expected to be staged in the afternoon.

Sunday's activities will probably include an open air concert in the square before the Parliament Buildings, in which 100 male voices and a band will be heard.

The committee starts its organization with an appropriation of $750, which is expected to be raised considerably by subscriptions.

NEW OFFICERS OF CHAMBER SWORN

Mr. Straith succeeds Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P.

The mayor extended congratulations to the new officers wishing them success during the year.

Convicted of soliciting for business while his car stood in an area not allotted for taxi business, Elmer Haikala, 907 Collinson Street, driver for the All Star line, was fined $5 in the City Police Court this morning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. Sergeant James Florence and Constable P. W. Richards gave evidence.

The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a meeting on Saturday, June 9, at 177 Robertson Street, when the members will be the guests of G. F. Howard.

An amendment to the constitution of the Chamber of Commerce providing for the establishment of a retail merchants group was endorsed at the annual meeting to-day.

A meeting of the Victoria and District Cornish Association will be held Saturday in the Maccabees Hall, Fort Street, at 8 o'clock. Following the meeting there will be cards.

As the Ss. President McKinley will not sail from Victoria to-morrow the next mail for China and Japan will close at 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 12, for dispatch by Ss. Empress of Russia. Mail for Honolulu will also be forwarded on the Empress steamer.

C. E. Thorne, of the Oregon state police, was a visitor to the city this week, with Mrs. Thorne. They arrived yesterday, and sailed this afternoon. Mr. Thorne paid his respects to members of the city police department, and took in sightseeing tours of the city.

Word of the death of Detective Joseph M. Bella, stationed with the provincial police force at Vancouver, reached headquarters here yesterday. Detective Bella was well known here. He had served with the force since September, 1921. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and one son in the R.C.M.P.

City police have been asked to assist in locating Leslie Gale, who has been missing from his home in the city. He is being sought by his brother, Eric Gale, 738 Pisgard Street, who described him as being thirty-one years old, dark haired, medium build, weighing 160 pounds and wearing a khaki shirt, navy blue coat and light blue pants.

Owing to the absence of Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, in the Court of Appeal, no further evidence in the case of William B. White and P. D. Wilson, jointly charged with obstruction of a police officer in the performance of his duty, was taken in the Saanich Police court yesterday afternoon. The case was postponed for a week.

Creation of the Oliver-Osoyoos Grasshopper Control area in the Kettle Valley district was approved by the B.C. cabinet yesterday following receipt of a petition from residents of the district. The following were appointed members of the control committee: James H. Mitchell, J. B. MacNaughton and A. E. Hanley of Oliver, and F. L. Goodman, Osoyoos.

S. E. Mitchell's action against Mary Chan for an unstated amount claimed in a dispute over a cordwood transaction will be continued Monday morning before Judge Lampman. After some of the principal witnesses had been examined by H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Mr. Mitchell, and by Frank Higgins, K.C., defence counsel, the trial was adjourned over the week-end.

The legal fight to lighten the three years' sentence imposed by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, after an Assize Court trial, on William Jones for indecent assault, was continued before the five justices of the Court of Appeal here to-day by Stuart Henderson, counsel for Mr. Jones; M. B. Jackson, K.C., prosecutor in the case, will open his reply either late to-day or Monday morning, if the case is delayed.

Two eight-year-old Chinese girls, Jessie Chu and King Soo, were slightly injured when knocked down by a cyclist on Wednesday afternoon, according to a police report made yesterday. The girls were crossing the intersection of Herald and Douglas Streets when struck by the cyclist, who was riding north on Douglas Street, and did not stop, the report said.

Regulations under the Fire Marshalls' Act, governing the sale, installation, maintenance and use of compressed-gas systems were promulgated yesterday by the provincial government and will go into effect on July 1. They require permits for installation and use of such systems and approval of the fire marshal in respect of equipment and its operation.

On Wednesday evening Frank Roberts addressed an audience at the C.C.F. Hall. His subject was "Dialectical Materialism," and his exposition in simple language of the manner in which the everyday life of the people had been changed and improved by the discoveries of science occupied nearly two hours. Mr. Roberts will continue a discussion of the same subject on Monday evening next.

Appointments by the provincial government this week include: S. B. Hamilton, government agent at Cumberland to be district registrar of the Supreme Court for the newly-created registry of Cumberland, effective July 1; W. J. Sturgeon to be district registrar of the Supreme Court, registrar of the county court and clerk of the peace in the Kootenay judicial district at Nelson, effective June 1; A. N. Herridge to be district registrar of births, deaths and marriages at Nakusp replacing W. Scott.

Alexander Kelman, who yesterday admitted the theft of a quantity of lead sheets from Government House, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment by Magistrate Jay this morning. The accused, who said nothing in his own defence yesterday, maintained his silence to-day when asked by the magistrate if he had anything to say. The magistrate pointed out the accused had not only admitted the theft but also admitted receiving money for property which he had no right to sell.

Win Damage Award In Yates St. Crash

Mrs. Minnie Monk, injured while crossing Yates Street, will get general damages of $150, and special damages of $15, according to the judgment of Judge Lampman rendered to-day. To her husband, Edward J. Monk, the judge awarded general damages of $25 and special damages of $158.50. Their combined claim was for $1,000. The judge found that "the negligence of the defendant, Arthur J. Hansen, a motorist, was the sole and proximate cause of the injuries, "and the damages will be assessed against Mr. Hansen.

B.C. To Stand By Nation's Credit

Circumstances Will Force Revision of Dominion Policies, Says Premier; B.C. Will Not Be First to Knock Props From Beneath Integrity

Forces are at work which eventually will force a revision of financial and economic methods in Canada and the Dominion government will have to proceed along different lines than it now is, although its present policies may be quite sound, declared Premier Pattullo in a luncheon address to-day before a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Real Estate Board, Capital City Commercial Club, Credit Granters' Association and Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

"Some people would have liked us to have had a 'showdown' at Ottawa when we were there. But don't forget, the Dominion had laid down a policy of protecting the financial integrity of the nation, and it would have been a tremendous step for British Columbia to take to be the first province to knock out the props from beneath the nation's credit," declared the Premier.

PAY IN FULL

"B.C. is going 100 cents on the dollar on all its capital obligations. But we do believe interest charges are too high and sooner or later the Dominion will have to take action along this line," he said.

"Canada," the Premier explained, "has been awaiting the crystallization of policies on the other side of the line, and even now it is apparent that events are taking shape at Ottawa.

"As far as the administration in B.C. is concerned, we will co-operate with the authority at Ottawa, whatever shade of political color that authority may be."

The Premier, speaking in a conversational and unemotional tone, was heard with interest by a large number of business men. He discussed in a matter-of-fact manner what his administration had faced so far, how it had handled things and re-emphasized the desire of the B.C. Government to pull together with the Dominion Government.

He spoke briefly on what he called "socialized capitalism," the condition in which the people are living to-day. It provided for the development of individualism, but for the general good of the state.

The Premier cited what Mussolini is doing in Italy in the way of development as an instance of how people can be put to work in profitable endeavor and how the young can be trained along productive lines.

"Our trouble is our economy has not kept pace with invention," he said. "But do you not think the mind of man that has produced what it has cannot put those things to a beneficial use?"

SCHEME FOR VICTORIA

Referring particularly to Victoria, he instanced just one thing that would create work. East of Douglas Street and north of Fort Street a type of "shacktown" was developing, good for neither business nor residential purposes. This could be replaced by a huge park, transforming it into a beautiful area and opening up other avenues of developing. Some people might think this rather chimerical, but he did not think so. In Washington, D.C., similar schemes had been undertaken. In New York block after block was being torn down and replaced.

Mr. Pattullo explained at some length his proposal for use of the national credit for public works.

"WORK AND WAGES"

With a national debt already amounting to $3,000,000,000, Canada's external credit would not be injured by expenditure of $200,000,000 this year on construction which would provide jobs. In this connection he referred to the "work and wages" slogan of the Liberal party during the last election campaign.

"Never did I at any time make any statement on "work and wages" which was not predicated on the assumption we would use the national credit," he said. "How could we proceed otherwise?"

This had been urged at Ottawa on two occasions. If it were necessary to issue currency to this amount then it should be done. It was not really inflation, because he only proposed the provinces should be given credit to this total on a population basis to be repaid without interest charges.

In detailing the conferences with the western premiers and the two visits to Ottawa, the Premier declared the "better terms" issue and the P.G.E. disposal plans would be pressed continually by the adminstration.

"We are never going to stop until these matters are settled, and settled favorably as far as we are concerned," he declared, mentioning that the Dominion cabinet would consider them after prorogation.

Dealing with the SPA, he said, the government had not been called upon to use it so far and he did not know whether it would be used. Conditions had changed since it was passed.

"The SPA," he continued, "was never meant as a weapon against Ottawa, as some people hinted. It was for the purpose of dovetailing with Ottawa. I don't think there is any one more jealous of the rights of democracy than I am. I have never had any doubts about the validity of it. It never was a substitution or abrogation of the functions of Parliament, but merely a delegation of authority to a committee of the House for a limited period."

Mr. Pattullo was introduced by W. T. Straith, the new president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor Leeming extended the vote of thanks.

Drowning Report Is Investigated

A report that four Chinese were drowned at Kildala Cannery, River's Inlet, has been received by provincial police. Robert Payne of Vancouver, general manager of the Canadian Fishing Company, requested information from the police. The patrol boat stationed at Ocean Falls is proceeding to River's Inlet to investigate.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

F. C. ELLIOTT

F. C. Elliott, of the firm of Courtenay and Elliott, has a birthday to-day. A well-known member of the legal fraternity of the city, he was born in Pakenham, Ontario, and came to Victoria in 1909.

YACHT PARTY FOR OFFICERS

Major-General E. C. Ashton to Travel to Nanaimo For Inspection on Sunday

Local military officers, who will attend the annual inspection of the second battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment at Nanaimo on Sunday, will leave the Royal Victoria Yacht Club moorings at Cadboro Bay to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in a fleet of private yachts.

The Nanaimo Yacht Club has offered use of its new moorings to visiting yachts.

Major-Gen. E. C. Ashton, district officer commanding Military District No. 11 at Work Point Barracks, will inspect the battalion on Sunday. He and members of his staff will leave to-morrow aboard Col. F. A. Lindsay's yacht, the Aileen. Major H. M. McGiverin and a party of officers will travel to Nanaimo by the Niska, and Col. D. B. Martyn will take a party of officers of the First Battalion aboard the McGaw.

Col. S. L. Howe of Vancouver, former Provincial Secretary, will cross to Nanaimo over the week-end aboard the Epauline.

About 300 men from up-island units of the Canadian Scottish will be inspected by Major-Gen. Ashton.

COAST CITIES TO GET INFLUX

N. R. DesBrisay of Winnipeg Says Summer Travel Exceptionally Good

Before leaving for Vancouver on his way east to-day, N. R. DesBrisay, C.P.R. assistant passenger traffic manager, Winnipeg, announced that tourist travel to the coast would be good this summer.

"We look for a large movement through the Rocky Mountains and Victoria and Vancouver will get the benefit of this travel," said Mr. DesBrisay.

This city, he said, could expect a large influx of travel from the south this year.

The excursion traffic to northern British Columbia and Alaska was exceptionally good this season with large bookings by the Princess steamers operating to Skagway.

Mr. DesBrisay had intended to stay in Victoria until to-morrow, but other business arrangements forced him to take the afternoon boat today for the mainland.

J. J. Forster, steamship general passenger agent, Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd., Vancouver, was also at the Empress Hotel to-day.

C. P. HILL BACK; THINKS CITY FINE

C. P. Hill of "Hillhaven," Esquimalt Road, returned to his home here yesterday afternoon after spending the last five months in the United States and eastern Canada. Mr. Hill returned home much improved in health and is glad to be back in Victoria, where the climate, he says, surpasses that of any place that he has visited. After holidaying in Hollywood, California, he left for Miami, Florida, later visiting Washington, D.C., and Montreal, where he attended the annual meeting of the Hillcrest Collieries. En route home he visited the Century of Progress Fair in Chicago.

DEFENDING CHAMP FAR DOWN LIST

Associated Press

Merton Cricket Club, Philadelphia, June 8.—Young Johnny Goodman's last lingering hopes of successfully defending the United States open golf championship disappeared to-day when the Omaha amateur ace took 77 for his second round and qualified for to-morrow's thirty-six-hole finals with a two-day total of 153.

CITY ANSWERS SEWER QUERY

Report to Saanich Points to Deficiencies in Municipality

Victoria's reply to Saanich's recent query that the city be explicit in its charge of a deplorable lack of sewer facilities in the municipality, was submitted to the City Council at its meeting to-day by Alderman J. D. Hunter in the form of a brief attached to a special resolution dealing with sewer matters.

Alderman Hunteer, chairman of the city health committee, recommended that a copy of the attached list be sent to Saanich.

The report, compiled by Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, in conjunction with Alderman Hunter, drew attention to the last 200 feet of Harriet Road northeast to the corner of Burnside Road, where, it states, open sewage runs in a ditch on the Saanich side of the road to a trap at the west corner of the Harriet-Burnside junction. About fifty feet of that has been culverted, it noted.

Similar conditions existed in the ditch on the southwest side of Burnside Road running to the same trap.

RUNS INTO CITY

"This sewage, in a surface drain ditch," the report continued, "runs in a southeasterly direction on the southwest side of Burnside, on the city side of the road to a point near Bailey's Grocery Store, at the corner of Carroll and Burnside, where it is at present absorbed. The first fifty feet of this ditch along Duncan's Grocery frontage has been culverted.

Continuing, the report reads, "On Alpha Street, at the corner of a Saanich lane about opposite Beta Street, sewage from several Saanich houses on this lane runs in an open ditch on to city land north of Alpha Street, seeping away party, and partly running into a ditch on the north side of the railway cutting, in a westerly direction until absorbed. There is also some clear surface water running into this railway ditch from a point further east.

"On Alpha Street, west of Douglas Street, there is no trouble actually on this road, but on property north of this street, the back fence of which is on the Saanich boundary, Saanich has an open sewage ditch running east and west collecting from septic tanks of three or four homes. Most of this is ditched into an empty city lot (lot 6, block 1), north of Alpha Street, where it seeps away.

IN SURFACE DRAIN

"A Saanich surface water drain running south from low land about Gamma Street, receives sewage from several Saanich homes. This empties into a concrete receiving tank (on Saanich property), and thence runs into the city surface drain on Alpha Street."

The cases cited are among the more objectionable. There are others which are drawn to the attention of the Saanich municipality.

"It is evident also that the present condition of things is steadily getting worse, as more houses are being erected immediately on the Saanich side of the boundary," the report continues.

Various aspects of the situation constitute a public nuisance and a menace to health, not only to the residents immediately in the vicinity of the Saanich boundary, but also on account of the nature of waterborne disease of the typhoid group, to the public at large, it states.

"The remedy immediately available as far as the city of Victoria is concerned, is that Saanich find ways and means of disposing of their sewage and septic tank effluents within their own boundaries," the statement concludes.

ASK FOR BETTER WATER PRESSURE

In an effort to secure better water pressure for Gordon Head district, served by the Dupplin Road main, Reeve William Crouch, heading a Saanich delegation which included Councillor Fred Borden, R. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, and H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, waited upon Mayor David Leeming and members of the city water board to-day.

The municipal delegation asked that the city make efforts to provide better pressure for the agricultural area of Gordon Head.

The matter was referred to Alderman Andrew McGavin, chairman of the city water committee, and G. W. Irwin, city engineer and water commissioner, for consideration with the municipal engineer of Saanich.

The city fire department this morning attended a call to a chimney fire at 130 St. Andrew's Street, where slight damage was reported.

AARON SAPIRO IS BANKRUPT

Associated Press

New York, June 8.—Aaron Sapiro, who once settled out of court a million-dollar libel action against Henry Ford, to-day had entered a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Federal court here.

The petition estimates his liabilities is $23,000 to the Liberty National Bank of Louisville, Ky.

Most of the assets listed are fees for legal services yet to be collected.

TORONTO DEATH

Toronto, June 8 (Canadian Press)—Sydney Charles Vinen, fifty-six, widely known insurance man for many years active in the affairs of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, died here yesterday.

CALGARY DEATH

Calgary, June 8 (Canadian Press)—James Bruce Thomson, forty-five-year-old accountant, was found dead in the basement of his home yesterday evening, a 32-calibre revolver by his side. No announcement has some from the coroner as to whether an inquest will be held.

Public Demanding More Realism

Hollywood, June 8.—Glamor, the thing which made the motion picture industry what it is to-day, absolutely will kill the business unless a halt is called in its overuse.

"In the early days of pictures, glamor was all right—in fact, it was a great asset," Goldwyn declares. "The public was shown a lavishness excelling any dream, and loved it.

"To-day, however, the people have tired of this glamor. They want reality. And, unless we give it to them, they'll stop patronizing pictures.

"For instance, it is utterly absurd to show a poverty-stricken girl with her hair perfectly waved and wearing the last word in clothes. It is equally bad to show a poor girl cooking a meal in a kitchen as fine and modern as could be found in any mansion to-day.

"And there is no reason for building sets so lavish that they detract from the story.

"The public to-day wants a good story, told in direct and realistic manner. The fans want life depicted as it exists, not covered with gilt paint."

JAMES BAY

On Monday last the members of the James Bay Y.P.S. spent an enjoyable time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davies, at Gonzales. During the afternoon and early evening horseshoes and croquet were played. Inside games and refreshments concluded an interesting social time. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the host and hostess. On June 11, after the regular business Group III will take charge of the meeting.

LOCAL COUNCIL

All branches affiliated with the Victoria and District A.Y.P.A. Local Council are requested to take notice that the sports finals, to be followed by a beach party, will take place on Wednesday, June 13, at the Willows Beach at 6.30 p.m. Members are asked to take cups and spoons, and branches entered in the softball playdowns must supply bats and balls. The sports pennant will be presented to the winner during the evening.

FIRE RAZES WAREHOUSE

Fire of unknown origin this morning demolished the warehouse and garage of the Crystal Spring Soda Water Company Limited, at 1244 Richardson Street. The damage, tentatively placed at about $500, was fully covered by insurance.

The city fire department fought the blaze for about three hours before finally putting it out. Two delivery trucks used by the company and stored in the building were saved, one being slightly damaged.

The building was used as a storehouse and hundreds of bottles in cases were ruined, which comprised the chief damage.

GIVE AUDIT OF CHAMBER

Disbursements of Local Commerce Body Exceeded Receipts By $326.13

During the year 1933 the Chamber of Commerce overspent its receipts by $326.13 and found it necessary to meet this extra obligation out of 1934 income, the report of J. A. Greenridge and J. H. Hill, auditors, made public at the annual meeting to-day, showed.

Receipts during 1933 totaled $8,430.21 which was raised to $8,929.12 by the addition of $498.91 cash in hand at the beginning of the year.

Membership dues accounted for $5,411.25, rents aggregated $2,458.60 and bank interest $10.36. Returns of $75 were shown from the Olympic trials and $475 from special donations to the Emergency Employment Plan.

Salaries, totaling $3,922.50 formed the chief disbursement. The quarters cost $2,954.82 and $1,574.33 was paid out on the Emergency Employment Plan. With other items the total disbursement amounted to $9,255.25, just $326.13 more than receipts.

Under a separate heading the auditors summarize the details of the Emergency Employment Plan funds.

Harold R. Sharples has been promoted in the Department of Education to be correspondence instructor in the high school correspondence course as part of the reorganization in this department.

Australians Score 207 Runs For Five In Test Cricke

THE SPORTS MIRROR

AFTER having boasted for weeks just what he was going to do to heavyweight champion Primo Carnera when they met in the fifteen-round bout for the world championship on June 14, Max Baer now wants the battle postponed for a week in order to give him additional time to get into shape. At least that is what his manager, Ancil Hoffman, states. Strangely enough, the usually talkative Baer has been very quiet the last couple of days. The situation is hard to understand. It is quite possible Baer's handlers figure he cannot beat Carnera in his present condition, and if they can stall for a week with the possibility of Carnera, who is reported to be right on fighting edge, going stale, little Maxie will have a chance. And then again it may be nothing more than ballyhoo, although a member of the New York Boxing Commission, after watching Baer work out yesterday, made the statement that if Max could do no better the bout should be postponed or even called off altogether. Baer has no alibis. He has had two months in which to whip himself into fighting condition, and that is plenty of time, providing he had looked after himself during his lay-off period. Maybe the motion picture business and night life took more out of him than he realized.

In writing on the Carnera-Baer fight there is an angle to Carnera's chequered career that is interesting.

Carnera knocked out Jack Sharkey with an uppercut alleged to have been developed in months of secret practice. Primo, if correctly quoted, thereupon told the world he'd go right along knocking them out, and do it in a hurry. He expressed great pride in that uppercut. He admitted freely that it was probably the most terrible blow ever used by a heavyweight.

But, of course, Primo never saw Jess Willard's uppercut, or Jack Johnson's uppercut, or Bob Fitzsimmons's uppercut, or Jim Jeffries' uppercut, or Jack Dempsey's uppercut, or Gene Tunney's uppercut. When those lads socked anybody with an uppercut they knew exactly what they were doing. And there is a growing suspicion that Carnera didn't know he was uppercutting Sharkey until they told him about it after the fight. It looks very likely, at this time, that the uppercut that made Primo champion was just what Sharkey said it was—an accident. Very likely Primo's big ham of a right fist was just swinging around for general results and happened to land on Sharkey's chin.

Because, if Primo "perfected" such a great punch through months of secret practice, why hasn't he been able to use it since?

Primo's managers very carefully picked a soft mark for him in his first title defence. Poor old Paolino had retired, and they dragged him back. Paolino was through, or thought he was. Dispatches from Rome said Primo promised to kayo Paolino in three or four rounds. When the fight came off it dragged along until the crowd nearly went to sleep, and Primo's big punch failed to show. Old Paolino took everything, grinned and stayed on his feet. The crowd razzed the giant, and Primo pushed little Paolino into corners and against the ropes and swung his huge arms earnestly, and that's all the good it did. He couldn't even put the Basque off balance.

Then came this "fight" with Tommy Loughran, who, like Paolino, weighed about eighty-six pounds less than the mastodonic champ and had no punch that Primo needed to worry about. They taught Primo a trick to offset Tommy's fast footwork and boxing skill. It was an old, old trick. Primo stepped on Tommy's feet and tried to hold him pinned in position for a socking. It didn't work. According to reports, Primo hit Tommy "stunning" blows, but they didn't stun Tommy. Primo had given out in advance his intention to flatten Tommy in three rounds. He hit Tommy right on the chin with plenty of those uppercuts developed in secret practice, and Tommy didn't even lose his dancing step. Primo wrestled and roughed and heaved Tommy into the ropes and tired Tommy out, but Tommy stuck the fifteen rounds.

That exploded the notion that Carnera has become a dangerous puncher. He isn't a champion like the champions who have gone before him, and he never will be. He is tremendously big, strong as an ox, fast enough, hard to hit because of his height and bulk, and he has plenty of endurance. But he can't hit. Bob Fitzsimmons, weighing less than 160 pounds, could hit harder than Carnera can at 270. It may be just as well for Carnera's managers to go right along picking soft marks for him, because if he ever happens to meet a real socker he'll be through. He can't "snap" his punches and he won't be dangerous to a really first-class heavyweight. And he can be hurt. Stribling knocked him down three times. Sharkey knocked him down once.

ESSBEECEE TEAM WINS

The Essbeecee softball team defeated the Admirals in an exhibition game yesterday evening 17 to 11. The batteries were, for the former, Campbell, Anderson and Smith, and for the latter, Hudson and Lalonde. Ponsford-McCabe Star As English Trundlers Deadly

Don Bradman Is Caught For 29

Canadian Press

Trent Bridge, Nottingham, June 8.—Interrupted by rain and forced to an early stoppage by bad light, the first day's play in the first test cricket match between Australia and England ended to-day with the Australians having scored 207 runs for the loss of five wickets.

The Australians were none too comfortable against a combination of English bowling that offered dazzling speed from Kenneth Farnes and slow spins from Hedley Verity.

Only W. H. Ponsford, with 53, and Stanley McCabe, 50 not out, made any sort of a stand. Don Bradman was dismissed for 29 runs, and Captain W. M. Woodful for 26.

OVER 30,000 PRESENT

More than 30,000 persons saw the opening day's play. Heavy rain interrupted the match for a short period after lunch, and rain fell again at tea time. This caused resumption to be delayed until 5.40 o'clock and the batters had hardly been established at the wickets before bad light caused adjournment until to-morrow.

R. E. S. Wyatt, who was to captain England, was forced out by a thumb injury, and C. F. Walters, Worcestershire, who has never played tests against Australia before, took over the leadership.

The Aussies chose to omit L. O. Fleetwood-Smith, Alan Kippax, W. A. Barnett and youthful Hans Ebeling.

Woodfull and Ponsford were the opening pair of batsmen. Kenneth Farnes, making his first appearance in a test match of any sort, partnered George Geary.

The Aussies opened the scoring when Ponsford cracked out a single off Geary. Both of Farnes's early overs were maidens, suggesting the Aussies, who have the greatest respect for fast trundling, were taking no chances.

TWO BOUNDARIES

Ponsford started to hit out. He sent a leg glance off Geary to the boundary and in the next over Farnes was knocked to the boundary through the slips.

Ponsford was making runs at a great rate. In the first hour his only bad strike was when he attempted a drive off a fast delivery, the ball flying back of point where Patsy Hendren made a valiant leap but failed to collar it.

Woodfull was still extremely cautious and seemingly uncomfortable. He had reached seven runs when Ponsford had made twenty-eight.

Verity and Hammond gave the Aussies a change of pace. With the alteration, Woodfull started lashing out. His first boundary was a fierce shot behind point, after he had been in for fifty-five minutes. The half century was reached in an hour and five minutes.

Together they went on to bring the score up to 73 for no wickets, Ponsford having 49 and Woodfull 20.

Ponsford, with a sparkling square cut, reached his 50 in an hour and a half. Farnes returned when the score was 77.

PONSFORD DISMISSED

Then Leslie Ames, one of England's foremost wicket-keepers, and Farnes finally dismissed Ponsford. Farnes sent a fast ball low down and Ponsford just snicked it, Ames getting the ball and whipping off the bails. Ponsford had scored 53 and the first wicket fell at 77.

Woodfull fell victim to Farnes shortly afterwards. When he had scored only 26 runs in two hours of the most stubborn defence, he sent a catch to Verity, and two wickets were down for 88 runs.

The renowned Don Bradman, who made cricket history on the last Aussie tour, then joined youthful W. A. Brown at the wickets. Bradman sent a fine cut to the boundary and ran a few risky singles in order to keep the bowling from Brown, a newcomer to test cricket.

Lunch time came with the score at 100 for two wickets, Brown having added 6 and Bradman 11.

Farnes's record up to the lunch interval was two wickets for 22 runs, in twelve overs. Storm clouds loomed up during the lunch interval.

BRADMAN APPLAUDED

Bradman got an ovation as he started to hit out in his best fashion. Heavy rain began to fall when the Aussies had reached 107 runs for two wickets—Brown 8 and Bradman 16—and the players left the field.

After fifteen minutes the downpour stopped and play was resumed. The sun came out brilliantly.

Bradman quickly got back into his stride. He knocked a couple of fours off Geary but when he faced Farnes's speed balls he was not so happy. He was glad to get a single off the fast bowler and then get out of the way.

Bradman's downfall came when he sent up a catch off Geary, and was brilliantly caught by Hammond in the slips. Bradman's total was 29, while Brown had reached 12, and the third wicket was down for 125 runs.

Brown soon followed Bradman. He mistimed an offering from Geary, and was out leg-before-wicket. It was the fourth wicket for 146 runs. Brown having scored 22.

Stanley McCabe, who succeeded Bradman, had already reached 11 runs when the fourth wicket collapsed. Darling went in to partner him.

DARLING OUT QUICKLY

Darling did not last long. He had scored four runs when he was bowled by Verity. Australia had 153 runs for five wickets, McCabe being established with fourteen runs to his credit. Young E. A. Chipperfield, the "baby" of the Aussie side, joined McCabe.

The pair brought the total up to 206 runs for five when tea was taken, McCabe reaching the half-century, while Chipperfield had 16 at that time.

McCabe hooked Farnes to the boundary twice in succession. Chipperfield was busy mainly in defending his wickets.

When tea was taken it was raining slightly again.

After a long delay the terms took the field again, but the Aussies had added only two runs when the gloomy light led to stoppage of play for the day.

To-night's Senior Amateur League ball game at the Athletic Park will bring together the Poodle Dog and the Tillicums, starting at 6.15 o'clock. Each club will be after its first victory in the league. In the first two games on Monday and Wednesday evenings these teams dropped decisions to the Sons of Canada. Bill Holness will hurl for the cafemen and Lefty Alexander for the Tillicums.

CUP FOOTBALL ON TO-MORROW

Thistles Meet Esquimalt in Dominion Series; Victoria West to Nanaimo

Three Victoria football teams will be engaged to-morrow afternoon in Dominion Challenge Cup matches. At the Athletic Park, starting at 2.30 o'clock, the Saanich Thistles and Esquimalt will clash, with T. Robb as referee. The Victoria West will travel to Nanaimo to meet the crack Coal City eleven at 6 o'clock. Members of the Wests team are requested to meet at the Gray Line depot at noon to-morrow.

The Dominion series is operated on the knockout system, and a team being defeated is finished. Overtime is played in all matches if necessary.

ESQUIMALT FAVORED

Last Wednesday evening Esquimalt handed the Thistles a 3 to 0 setback in the final game of the second half of the first division of the Victoria Coast Football League. Last Saturday the Dockers turned back the Thistles 2 to 1 in the final of the Jackson Cup series. In view of these two victories Esquimalt is favored to win to-morrow's engagement.

Secretary J. R. Jones announced this morning that the play-off between the Thistles and Wests for second half honors in the league would take place next Wednesday at the Heywood Avenue grounds at 6.30 o'clock. R. Alcock will referee. The winner of this match will earn the right to meet Esquimalt, first half winners, for the league championship.

Jack Forsgren Wins Mat Bout With Thye

Vancouver, June 8.—Taking two straight falls, Jack Forsgren, Vancouver, 218, won, the main event of a wrestling card here yesterday evening from Ted Thye, Portland, 195. Gaining his first fall in the second round with a Boston crab, Forsgren came out in the fourth to take the match with a body press.

TITLE BOUT ORDERED ON

Carnera and Baer Meet For Heavyweight Crown Next Thursday as Scheduled

New York, June 8.—Max Baer and Primo Carnera to-day were reported in "satisfactory" condition for their fifteen-round heavyweight championship fight next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden Bowl and the New York State Athletic Commission ordered the fight to go on as scheduled.

The announcement was made by Chairman John J. Phelan after both boxers had been given an exhaustive examination at commission headquarters by three commission doctors.

No vote in the commission was necessary as the decision of the physicians as to a fighters' condition is mandatory under the laws of the states.

An innocent little ballyhoo stunt turned into one of those guns nobody thought was loaded, yesterday, until Bill Brown, member of the New York States Athletic Association, got fooling with the trigger, and all but blew the title bout right out of existence.

Brown watched the brawny challenger box nine rounds, yesterday, and then announced he would recommend, to-day, to the other two commission members, John J. Phelan and D. Walker Wear, that the match be postponed a month or called off entirely.

Brown's statement turned the fight camp into an uproar; brought howls of protest from Madison Square Garden, and left the Baer handlers, who suggested the postponement idea, Wednesday, as a ballyhoo stunt, looking like small boys who forgot to let go of a lighted skyrocket.

"If that's the best Baer can do," the militant, white-haired commissioner announced at the ringside after watching the challenger clown through nine rounds with four sparring partners, "then he should not be permitted to fight Carnera at all."

The statement stirred up more excitement than any fight camp has seen since the time Jack Dempsey bandaged his left arm one night during training for his comeback against Jack Sharkey, and "accidentally" let a newspaper man "discover" that old Iron Mike, his famous left hook, was in a sling.

Pompton Lakes, N.J., June 8.—Irked over the heckling to which he was subjected, Wednesday, Primo Carnera walked out on all visitors to his training camp, yesterday. The big Italian jumped into his car when the first visitors arrived, and roared off to a quiet hideout. To-day he was to resume boxing.

Wests Ball Team Wins Over Sidney

Playing errorless ball behind the pitching of Sid Carr the Wests defeated Sidney 3 to 2 in a closely-fought game played at Sidney yesterday evening.

Pelland came through with a timely hit in the ninth with one on to win the game.

CANOE MARATHON ACROSS STRAITS IS SUGGESTED

Possibility of staging a canoe marathon across the Straits of Juan de Fuca from Victoria to Port Angeles, suggested by W. H. Davies at a meeting of local and Port Angeles sportsmen in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening, was warmly received by delegates from Washington and consideration will be given a plan to stage it probably on July 4, the big United States holiday. The move, which has been broached here before, met considerable favor from various delegates, some of those from across the water stating their intention of taking it up with public bodies in the Washington city as a feature of this year's holiday attraction.

Light Brocade Wins Oakes In Big Upset

Canadian Press

Epsom Downs, June 8. — The upset in the Derby was repeated in the running of the classic Oaks Stakes for fillies to-day when Light Brocade won, and the hot favorite was not even placed.

Light Brocade, owned by Lord Durham, finished ahead of Z. G. Michalino's Zelina, with Lord Astor's Instantaneous third in the field of eight. Sir George Bullough's Campanula, almost as good a favorite for the fillies' classic as Colombo was in the Derby, trailed.

Light Brocade was the strong second choice at 7 to 4. Zelina was 9 to 4, and Instantaneous 20 to 1.

The winner had a length and a half advantage at the end of the race over the Derby route of a mile and a half. Zelina in turn was half a length ahead of the third horse.

It was the 156th running of the classic for fillies, which is a year older than the Derby itself, having first been run in 1779.

The winner is a brown filly by Galloper Light out of Trilogy, who won three out of four starts as a two-year-old.

Except that Campanula did not even get in the money, the race was almost a duplicate of the Derby.

Sonny Buxton Drops Decision to Shull

Tacoma, June 8.—Arthur "Pinky" Shull, 172, Tacoma, state light heavyweight champion, won a close decision over "Sonny" Buxton, 172, Victoria, B.C., in the six-round main event of the ring programme here yesterday evening. Shull on his heavier and cleaner punching in the first four rounds piled up a margin that Buxton's rally in the last two rounds failed to erase.

SQUADS TIE IN BALL FIXTURE

San Francisco Nine and Twilight League All-stars Play to 8 to 8 Draw

Bats of the U.S.S. San Francisco ball team cracked out in the fourth and fifth inning of their exhibition game with an all-star squad from the Twilight Baseball League at the Athletic Park yesterday evening and when they had finished the visiting sailors had earned an 8 to 8 tie with the locals.

The visitors were trailing by six runs when they entered the fourth, but they came back well to even up the count with three in their half of that frame and five in the next.

Art Carr started for the Victorians but was replaced by Haley Jackson in the fifth. Scott and Woodford divided the receiving duties.

Clearwater opened on the mound for the sailors and retired in the fifth with Hopkins taking his place. Bartlett was catcher.

Bobby Cruickshank, Charley Lacey and Whiffy Cox Set Pace at End of First Round With 71's; Goodman Has 76; Lawson Little Shoots Disastrous 83

Philadelphia, June 8. — Old Man Par successfully beat off the attacks of some of the foremost golfers of the United States yesterday throughout the hot, wind-swept first round of the open golf championship, but three of the hardest-hitting professionals had him on the ropes as they wound up the opening skirmish in a triple tie for the lead.

"Wee Bobby" Cruickshank, Richmond, a play-off victim of Bobby Jones exactly eleven years ago, joined two stars of the Metropolitan New York district—British-born Charley Lacey and the veteran Wilfred ("Whiffy") Cox—in a three-cornered deadlock at 71, one over par, after the shooting had ceased for the first eighteen holes of the seventy-two-hole three-day battle. The day found a number of outstanding favorites far in the rear, and the scores at the highest level on any open championship in recent years.

SARAZEN NEXT

At its close the "Three Musketers" had a two-stroke lead over their nearest pursuer, stocky Gene Sarazen, New York, with a 73; a three-stroke lead over a flock of others, including Paul Runyan, the tournament favorite, at 74, and a five-stroke advantage over the youthful amateur holder of the open title, Johnny Goodman, Omaha.

Jimmy Johnstone, Toronto pro, left himself far behind with an 8. Tommy Filmore, professional hockeyist and golfing pro, Detroit, needed 80. Joe "Trick-Shot" Kirkwood, wearer of the Canadian open diadem, carded a neat 75, while the Canadian amateur champion, "Scotty" Campbell, Seattle, shot a bad 83.

Johnny Goodman's 76 was the best any of the six Walker Cup heroes could produce under the blustery conditions, but it left the young sharpshooter in a tie for twenty-second place in a field of 146.

LITTLE WELL BACK

Meanwhile the champion's fellow-townsman and amateur rival, Rodney Bliss Jr., runner-up last year for the inter-collegiate championship, took the day's honors among the simonpures by shooting a brilliant 74, which left him in a tie for fifth place with seven others, including Horton Smith, Paul Runyan, Mortie Dutrie and George von Elm, all a stroke behind Sarazan. William Lawson Little Jr., the new British amateur champion, carded a weird 83.

The professionals, for the most part, were equally as erratic, aside from the pace-setting group. Tommy Armour, the black Scot, blew himself out of the running with an 82. Denny Shute, Philadelphia, the British open king, posted a mediocre 78. Ky Laffoon, Denver, the sensation of the practice sessions, was in the big group tied with Goodman at 76, together with the colorful Walter Hagen, Olin Dutra, Leo Diegel, Ed. Dudley, Harry Cooper and Bill Burke.

On the front-runners, Cox had perhaps the best chance to hand the lethal wallop to Old Man Par. But for poor work on three short holes, where he lost four strokes to par, Cox would have come home with a score of 67.

Giants and Detroit Bolster Ball Leads

Pacesetters in Major Baseball Defeat Boston and Cleveland; Mel Ott Hits Pair of Home Runs; Cubs Nose Out St. Louis in Tenth Inning

It took St. Louis Cardinals fifteen games to climb from fourth place in the National League standing to first in what was considered to be a remarkable spurt. It took just two to return them to fourth again.

The Cards' spurt started with their victory over the New York Giants and led to ten victories in fifteen contests. The sudden return began Wednesday when they dropped a thirteen-inning decision to Chicago's Cubs, 12 to 6, and when Chicago went on to take a ten-inning decision yesterday the Cards were fourth again, five percentage points behind Pittsburgh Pirates and a full game behind the Cubs.

The Giants, back in the lead, continued to lambast Boston pitching and defeated the Braves, 14 to 5. Mel Ott boosted the score with his eleventh and twelfth homers of the year.

DETROIT BOLSTERS LEAD

Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers consolidated their position at the head of the American League by trouncing Cleveland 11 to 6 while the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox decided it was too cold for a game at Boston.

The Indians dropped into a virtual tie with the St. Louis Browns, who rallied for three runs in the ninth to overcome a lead Chicago had gained through Zeke Bonura's fifteenth homer of the year and to beat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 3. Washington Senators beat the Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 3 as Jimmy Foxx hit his fourteenth homer.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Newark's steady play carried the Bears into a virtual tie for the International League lead with Rochester to-day.

The bears hit hard behind Walter Brown's effective pitching yesterday and trounced Albany Senators, 14 to 5. Rochester dropped a night-game decision to Montreal Royals, 8 to 4. Although the two clubs thus are in a virtual tie, Rochester still holds the lead in percentage, .560 to .554 for Newark.

BEAVERS WIN BEHIND JONES

Defeat New Method Laundries 14 to 8 in Softball; Ribbons Down Mohawks

Playing steady ball behind the smart pitching of Lloyd Jones, Beavers continued their victorious march in the A division of the Lower Island Softball Association yesterday evening, downing the New Method Laundries 14 to 8 at Central Park. Their rivals, the Blue Ribbons, got back into the favored grouping with a one-sided 13 to 1 verdict over the Mohawks at Victoria West Park.

The Beavers went on a scoring spree in the opening inning, bringing in five runners. Rosy McLellan pitched for the laundry, while Chuck Turner turned in a winning performance for the Blue Ribbons in the other game. Ed Ashe's homer assisted the latter in their verdict.

Lloyd Simpson shut out Hudson's Bays as Painters' Bruins kept up their string of victories with a 7 to 0 decision over the storemen in the C division fixture at Memorial Park.

North Saanich walloped over the Cooperage 17 to 1 in another C section fixture and Hustlers defeated the Canucks 18 to 4 to hand the D division leaders their first set back. A hit by Pelland in the ninth inning gave the Victoria West Social Club a 3 to 2 win over Sidney in the last-mentioned section.

On Sunday Bruins will play Shawnigan in a doubleheader at the lake. Players are requested to meet at the Blue Line depot at 10.15 o'clock.

INTER-CITY GAME BILLED

University School to Meet St. George's, Vancouver, at Cricket To-morrow

The visiting team will be the guests of the boys of University School during the day and the majority of the team will stay overnight at the school prior to their departure on Sunday.

Albions will face Victoria at eBacon Hill, and Cowichan will take the field against the Five C's at Duncan in to-morrow's league matches. Incogs will play Wanderers in a friendly engagement at Macdonald Park.

Matches are scheduled to start at 2.15 o'clock.

Lawn Bowling

The tenth anniversary of the opening of the Burnside lawn bowling green was commemorated yesterday evening when some fifty bowlers of both sexes participated in a mixed rink game, several members of the various clubs in Victoria being present. The prize for the team winning by the closest score was won by Mrs. Shotbolt, J. Hancock and A. W. Stewart, who defeated Mrs. Findlay, A. M. Sinclair and S. C. Hawkins by a score of 17 to 16.

At the conclusion of the game, strawberries and cream were served by ladies of the Burnside Club, and during the refreshment period the honorary president, John Paterson, made a brief speech, in which he traced the progress made by this club since it first opened on June 7, 1924, when the property on which it now stands, was barely more than cleared land. Owing to the indefatigable efforts of its founders, among whom the most prominent were R. Huddleston, J. Renfrew, J. M. Boyd, F. J. Byng, G. Vallance, J. Paterson, P. Handley, Major J. P. Hibben and A. Hallam, who gave of their time and labor, the club has met with splendid success, until to-day it is reckoned to be one of the best equipped on the Pacific coast.

VICTORIA CLUB

Women members of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club entertained the fair sex players from the C.P.R. in seven rink competitions yesterday. Teams were changed during the day, creating considerable interest in the contests.

In a father and son match, W. H. Cullin Sr., Victoria, was defeated by W. H. Cullin Jr., Vancouver, 34 to 18, at the club during the afternoon.

Colonist Bicycle Race This Evening

Fifty Riders Will Take Part in Major Competition Over Lengthy Course; Complete Entry List Is Announced; Start at 7.30 o'Clock

At 7.30 o'clock to-night at the corner of King's Road and Quadra Street Chief of Police Heatley will start the field in the annual Colonist bicycle race. GRADS FACE GREAT TEST

Edmonton's Basketball Champs Meet Strong Club in Tulsa, U.S. Monarchs

Edmonton, June 8. — Tulsa "Stenographers," champions of women's basketball in the United States, who open a three-out-of-five series with the Edmonton Grads here on Saturday night, come here with a rating higher than any other United States group which has crossed the border to aim at the Underwood Trophy and the Grads' international honors.

Only one team, the Durant Cardinals, defeated the Grads on the playing floor here. This was last year, when the title was not at stake. The Tulsa team this year defeated the Cardinals in the series to name the United States champions.

Meanwhile, dopesters have found that the Tulsa team far outweighs the Grads. Their player average is 144 pounds, the Grads 129.

This was before Mabel Bunton was injured yesterday evening and put out of the series. She weighs 145.

Miss Bunton suffered three rib fractures, a possible lung injury and a scalp wound as she was walking to the arena yesterday evening to participate in the last pre-series practice. Two trucks collided and one of them careened on to a sidewalk where she was walking.

Here it is—the majors' only brother battery. Rick Ferrell, left, catcher, and Wesley, pitcher. Wes, when he failed to come to terms with the Cleveland Indians, was traded to the Boston Red Sox. This is the first picture taken of the two Ferrells as members of the Boston team.

Victorians To Seek Big Salmon Laurels

Plan to Participate in Pacific Northwest Fishing Contest Off Port Angeles in September; Local Trials Here in August

Anglers of Victoria yesterday evening heard tentative plans for the first Pacific Northwest International Salmon Derby, a fishing competition in the waters off Port Angeles on September 2 and 3, for which the first prize will be a Studebaker sedan, at an organization meeting in the Chamber of Commerce.

The event, which has drawn the interest of sports fishermen all over the northwest, may be staged in Victoria next year, it was stated.

The Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association will sponsor the formation of a local contingent for the contests and Dr. Hugh Clarke will be chairman of the local committee.

Details of the plan were outlined to the local sportsmen yesterday evening by Dr. J. Cecil Hay, president of the Port Angeles Salmon Club; M. J. Schmitt, president Olympic Development League; H. B. Malchoir, secretary of the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce; H. T. Swanson, vice-president of the Port Angeles Salmon Club, and H. W. Davies, manager of the port of Port Angeles, were present, and gave the meeting all the information required.

Victorians wishing to compete in the event are required to take out affiliation cards with the Port Angeles Club through the local executive. Local trials will be held in Saanich Arm on August 12 and 19, and the top 10 per cent landing the largest fish in three eliminations, will go across the water to compete for the rich prizes. Those wishing to participate may fish on either one of the two days, but not on both.

OTHER PRIZES

In addition to the Studebaker sedan, the first prize, a trolling boat will be given to the competitor landing the second largest fish, and an outboard motor will be the award for the person taking third laurels. Twenty-five other prizes, chiefly fishing tackle, will also be given.

Rods must not be less than five feet in length in the competition and the reel must be attached. The rods must be held in the hands, not attached to the boat. Any type of line may be used, but only one type of lure will be permitted. Each contestant will be allowed but one rod and the fish may be gaffed by the man holding the rod or by anyone else in his boat. No gaff may be longer than four feet.

Robert Banderob, chief of Port Angeles police, will be the official weigher. The fishing area will range from the Washington Pulp and Paper Mill to the eastern limits of the Olympic Forest Products, including Port Angeles inner harbor.

Dr. Cecil Hay, formerly one of Victoria's fleetest sprinters, and well known in local athletic circles, outlined further details of the scheme, stating he expected about 500 outstanding fishermen to compete in the contest.

PHILOSOPHY AT PARTING

Never lift a finger,
Love is going out;
Do not bid him linger,
Voice no fear or doubt.

Do not seek to hold him,
Do not pray or weep;
Why be vexed and scold him,
What is there to keep?

Love was yours a season,
Must it be for aye?
Can you name a reason
He should always stay?

Have you been so gracious
He could not depart?
Did he find warm, spacious Chambers in your heart?

Though he sorely grieve you
Now, try not to weep;
Since he long to leave you,
What is there to keep?

Wheat Prices Rise On Winnipeg Mart

Winnipeg, June 8.—Anticipation of bullish crop reports, and a fair export business in Canadian wheat hoisted wheat prices one to ⅝ cents on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. The close, however, was 1½ cents under the high points at which levels general liquidation developed.

Wheat ended at 77⅞. October quoted at 79⅝ cents and December, which made its 1934 appearance on the board, finished at 80¾ cents.

At top levels the market was inclined to be nervous, though for the great part of the session fair gains were held. Trading was only moderately active.

A fair business in Canadian wheat for shipment abroad was worked but all of it did not reflect in pit operations.

Liverpool wheat closed ⅝ to ¾d higher, while Chicago near the close was up about one cent.

There was good demand for cash grains with spreads improving fractionally. Export sales of Canadian oats reflected in the futures market where that commodity led all coarse grains to higher levels.

CHICAGO

Associated Press

Chicago, June 8.—Stimulated by strength of securities and by evening-up in anticipation of a bullish government crop report, wheat prices advanced most of the time to-day.

It was intimated a big export business in wheat had been done at Winnipeg. Drought was reported to have cut the Czechoslovakia wheat crop almost in half and to have stopped all exports of agricultural products from Bulgaria.

Heavy profit-taking sales just at the last in wheat wiped out most of the gains. Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¼ cent compared with twenty-four hours previous. July 97⅜-⅞; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher; oats ⅜-¾ advances, and provisions showing a rise of ten to fifteen cents.

SALVADOR HIT BY HURRICANE

Eight Dead and Damage of $1,500,000 Toll of Central American Storm

Associated Press

New York, June 8.—Eight lives were lost, 500 persons were made homeless and damage estimated at $1,500,000 was done by a hurricane that swept San Salvador yesterday and last night, the Pan-American Airways reported to-day.

Martial law was declared to-day as a result of the complete collapse of communication facilities, light and power lines and railroad travel.

The reports, radioed to Pan-American Airways via its airport in Salvador, which escaped damage, said many large buildings in the capital were partially demolished.

Homes in the residential districts of Ilopango and Foyopango were washed away by heavy rains that fell during the storm, the reports said, while the highway to La Libertad was rendered impassable.

PROGRESS IN STEEL TALKS

NRA Announces Agreement With U.S. Workers' Organization Threatening Strike

Associated Press

Washington, June 8.—Brig.-Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, announced late to-day the American Iron and Steel Institute had accepted the administration plan for settling the threatened strike of steel workers and that this represented a "very forward step on the part of the Institute."

The NRA chief's proposal was for a special labor board for the industry.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania flew to Washington to confer with Secretary of Labor Perkins on the steel situation.

STRIKE AT RACINE

At Racine, Wis., 130 employees of the Horlick Malted Milk Company struck for more pay and recognition of their union.

The packing plant strike continued at Oklahoma City, with 900 workers involved. The two plants affected, Armour and Company, and Wilson and Company, have notified the strikers they will forfeit their jobs unless they return to work.

RADIO HEAD IS AGAIN ASSAILED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—A declaration that Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, "knew nothing whatsoever about broadcasting when he was appointed, and knows little more now," was contained in a brief filed with the Commons committee on radio to-day by E. A. Weir.

Mr. Weir, who was director of radio for the Canadian National Railways, and was secured by the commission when it was first established to give the benefit of his long experience to the new organization, was later dismissed. To-day's brief was the third shot in a verbal battle before the committee in which the commission met charges of inefficiency and mistreatment with counter-charges of officiousness, interference and inefficiency on the part of Mr. Weir.

W. A. ALLEN DIES IN VANCOUVER

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 8.—William Henry Allen, sixty-nine, who retired last year after twenty-one years in the B.C. Supreme Court registry, died at his home here to-day. He was a familiar figure to the bench and bar of British Columbia.

Mr. Allen was a native of Dorsetshire, England, and went to sea when he was thirteen years of age. Later he served in the Royal Navy.

He was an enthusiastic supporter of the Vancouver Pioneers' Association and attended the meeting of that organization a week ago to-day.

ISLAND LAKE GOLD

Winnipeg, June 8.—Successful operations during the past year were reported yesterday by H. Drummond-Hay, president, at the annual meeting of Island Lake Gold Mines Ltd.

The balance sheet of the company showed total assets of $883,548: Cash, $795 and accounts receivable, $1,548. On the liability side are $6,446 in accounts payable and accrued charges and wages payable and $104,318 in connection with the agreements made with Ventures Ltd.

PRICES RISE AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press

Montreal, June 8.—Encouraged by the brisk movement in New York, prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange advanced at the close of to-day's session. Sales volume picked up slightly with the better tone.

Gains of a point were recorded by Canadian Industrial Alcohol, St. Lawrence Flour, Foundation Company and Steel of Canada. Hollinger rose seventy cents at 18.10 and International Nickel was up sixey-five cents at 26.25. Brazilian Traction, Canadian Pacific Railway, Shawinigan Power, Consolidated Smelters and Dominion Steel and Coal "B," were up fractions.

Dominion Bridge eased ½ at 32½. Massey-Harris, Quebec Power, Montreal Power and National Breweries were unchanged.

GOLD STOCKS IN SPOTLIGHT

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 8. — Gold held the mining market spotlight in to-day's Toronto Exchange session, all stocks of the yellow metal group moving forward under a heavy volume of buying.

Hollinger climbed to $18, McIntyre to 49.25, Bralorne to 14.25 and Dome to $2.25. Gains of about 10c each were registered for Teck Hughes, Wright-Hargreaves and Pioneer.

Several o fthe cheaper golds were buoyant, including San Antonio, up 20c, Macassa up5c, God's Lake up 15c, Siscoe up 10c, Ventures up 2c and Little Long Lac up 5.

Noranda moved up with the gold group, closing at 44.85 for a net gain of 35c. Hudson Bay advanced 50c.

STRENGTH IN INDUSTRIALS

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 8. — Industrial shares trailed the New York board to higher levels to-day, gains appearing in substantial proportions at the close.

Nickel closed at 26.10, up fifty cents, and Walkers advanced about two points.

Walkers Common closed at 38¾, up 1⅞, while Distillers Seagrams, also a heavy trader, gained ¾ to 16¾, Industrial Alcohol ¾ to 11⅞ and Brewers and Distillers ten to 1.45.

Brazilian added ½, Ford more than a point and C.P.R. ⅜. International Pete gained more than a point to 27⅞. Advances of ⅛-⅜ came out for British American and Imperial, and Supertest and Canadian closed on the upside. B.C. Packers Pfd and Canners B were strong spots.

New York, June 8.—Stocks staged a rather buoyant rally to-day, the first of any importance in more than three weeks. In relatively active trading prices advanced one to around five points over a broad front. The upturn was attributed partly to hopes that the steel strike would be averted.

Listed shares of Canadian companies rose moderately. McIntyre, Canadian Pacific, Dome and International Nickel gained fractionally. Hiram Walker got up to two points and Lake Shore was firm. Dominion Government bonds were steady. The Canadian dollar improved 1-16 of a cent at 100.75 cents.

Shares of Allied Chemical got up more than four and Du Pont, Bethlehem Steel Preferred and Macy advanced around three each. U.S. Steel, preferred and common, came back about two points each, and Bethlehem Steel Common was one ahead. Others, up one or two or so, included American Can, American Telephone, Case, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Goodyear, Chrysler, General Motors, American Tobacco B, Liggett and Myers B, Schenley, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fee, N.Y. Central, Union Pacific, U.S. Smelting and Cerro de Pasco.

Rains Bring Relief to Grain Situation on Prairies, But Pastures Damaged

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—Rains of the last week afforded almost general relief to the parched grain fields and pastures of the prairie provinces, according to the crop report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The heavy rains will assist the grain crops to withstand grasshopper damage, but the effect of the insects has been serious in parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Heaviest precipitation was recorded in northern and eastern Manitoba, east-central and southwestern Saskatchewan and over most of Alberta. Dry areas are still reported in southern Manitoba, southeastern and west-central and northwestern Saskatchewan and east-central Alberta. The weather has been cool and cloudy for several days. The light frosts reported from Calgary, Edmonton and Battleford caused no apparent damage.

While the grain crops are temporarily relieved over most of the west, there is continued anxiety regarding the growth of hay and pastures. These crops require more moisture than the spring grains, and have suffered severely under the extremely favorable conditions.

POISONING HOPPERS

The general rains will assist the grain crops to withstand grasshopper damage, but it is reported that these insects developed very rapidly during the past week. Poisoning is proceeding actively, but serious damage has been done in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Sixty per cent of Manitoba's cropped area is reported as suffering from bad grasshopper infestation. Heavy damage is evident in southern, central and especially in southwestern Saskatchewan.

In Alberta, the damage is confined to the Hanna district and certain localities in the south.

The recent rains brought relief to all of Manitoba, excepting the southwestern corner, where the drought was most severe. In other districts, particularly in the south, relief is only temporary and pastures need much more rain.

In Saskatchewan the drought was broken by rains of the last week-end, but not before irreparable damage had been done. More rain is required almost generally to advance the growing crops, to germinate the latesown grain, to relieve the grasshopper situation and particularly to provide feed for livestock. Crops in northern and east-central Saskatchewan are making good progress. In the southwest and southeast they are poor, and in the west-centre port to good. Fall rye is generally heading out thin and short. The feed situation is very bad in some southern districts and is causing much anxiety.

RAINS HELP

The crop outlook for Alberta was almost completely changed by the heavy and well-distributed rains of the past week. Only limited sections of east-central and extreme southern Alberta failed to receive the needed moisture. More rain will soon be needed in southern Alberta and in some central areas, but crop conditions are decidedly improved in every other district of the province. In northern Alberta, crop prospects are variously described as very good, excellent and ideal, with no reports of damage. Warm weather is mentioned as necessary to advance growth.

FOREIGN BOND MARKET WEAK

Associated Press

New York, June 8.—Bonds were steady in light trading to-day. Small gains were recorded by a sizeable list of prime and secondary ratings. U.S. Governments added in a small way to their advance of the previous day.

The bulk of dealings in the foreign department was in German and Poland issues, and even here the interest was not particularly lively. The loans of these nations were down fractionally, as were those of Brazil, Italy and Belgium.

MINTO
Following is result of mill test run on 125 pounds heavily mineralized Minto ore by G. S. Eldridge & Co., metallurgical engineers:
7.2 tons of ore give a one-ton concentrate carrying 13.55 ounces gold and 16.2 ounces silver.
At present metal prices this would give a value of $467.99 per ton of concentrate.
This run shows that the ore gave a 95.8 per cent recovery of gold and silver values by FLOTATION TREATMENT ALONE.
Further tests of ore for amalgamation are under way.
We Recommend the Purchase of MINTO at Present Prices

OXFORD GROUP TOUR PLANNED

International Team to Travel East Across Canada From Banff

Banff, Alta., June 8. — Tentative plans for a brief tour of Canada by the international team of the Oxford Group were outlined last night by Dr. Buchman, its leader, at a meeting of the North American House Party in Banff Springs Hotel.

The present house party will break up on June 12, when several hundred members will begin an eastward trek. Going straight through to Winnipeg, the international team will hold meetings in the Manitoba capital on June 13 and 14, Toronto June 16 and 17, Ottawa June 18, Montreal June 19 and Quebec City June 20.

The international team, accompanied by some 400 Canadian "life changers," will then sail for England on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia.

Arrivals at the house party in Banff continue to swell the attendance here daily and an influx of several hundred persons is anticipated over the week-end.

CALGARY LIVESTOCK

Calgary, June 8 (Canadian Press).—Receipts at local stockyards yesterday were 135 cattle, 83 calves, 1,348 hogs and 320 yearlings and lambs. To-day five cattle, two calves and 851 hogs were received. Bulk of to-day's hogs were on through billing. Cattle market was slow, sales being mostly of left-overs, or plain quality. Cows and bulls were 25 cents lower for the week. Hog market was steady at yesterday's decline: Selects $8.35, bacons $7.85 and butchers $7.35 off trucks. A few choice spring lambs sold at $8.

Cattle, common to medium butcher steers, $2.25 to $3.65. Medium butcher heifers, $3. Medium to good fed calves, $3.75 to $4. Good butcher cows $2 to $2.50, common to medium $1.25 to $1.75. Good veal calves $4.50 to $5.08, common to medium $4 to $5.10.

FRUIT DUTIES ARE INCREASED

Ottawa, June 8.—Advanced valuations for duty purposes on imported apricots, raspberries and loganberries, cabbage and carrots have been fixed by the Minister of National Revenue. The value for duty purposes on apricots has been fixed at an advance of two cents per pound on the true invoice value from June 15 to August 10; raspberries and loganberries three cents advance from June 15 to August 31; cabbage 2½ cents from June 16 to February 15; carrots 2½ cents from June 15 to February 15.

SENTENCE OF DEATH

Jersualem, June 8 (Associated Press).—A death sentence was decreed to-day against Abraham Aaron Stavsky, a Polish Jew found guilty of the murder of Dr. Chaim Arlosoroff, the Jewish Agency executive who was shot while walking with his wife June 15, 1933, in Telaviv. Levi Rosenblatt, accused on the same charge, was acquitted.

Do You "Pal Around" With Your Children?

Dorothy Dix

Tells Harm of Constant Adult Companionship

NOTHING is more common than to hear a complacent mother boast that she is her children's best pal and their inseparable companion and tell how she hikes with them and motors with them and goes to the movies with them and plays with them and helps them entertain their friends when they come to see them and how she is just one of the gang.

The mother accounts it unto herself for righteousness that she spends her time playing tiddledewinks with Sally and Johnny when her soul is crying out for contract, but in reality she should be ashamed of herself for taking advantage of her position as mother to inflict herself perpetually on her children and for crashing in at a party to which she is not invited and where she is not wanted.

For the last thing in the world that children yearn for is the society of grown people. They appreciate them as a background and as the purveyors of good times, but when they take their pleasure they want to do it without any adult eye upon them. It cramps their style to have their elders about.

If you have ever attended one of those ghastly functions known as children's parties, where miserable little creatures in their best clothes are coerced into playing games led by smiling mothers and aunts who are trying to be children again and witnessed the suffering of the hapless victims you must see how true this is. There are favors and prizes and presents and all sorts of goodies to eat, but nothing takes the curse off the situation that the presence of grown-ups has laid upon it.

But give this same bunch of children a couple of bread-and butter sandwiches and send them into a vacant lot to play by themselves and they will make the welkin ring with their shouts of joy.

What we do not realize is that we adult people bore children just as much as they bore us. More. Far more. Because they have for us the fascination that lies in youth and because they represent all sorts of potentialities, but to the child we are dull and sodgy companions who must be endured because we were wished on them as parents or we are the source from which their treats flow.

None of us can enter into a child's mind any more than we can into its body. We can't enjoy the thing a child enjoys. We don't really believe in fairies any more nor have the time of our lives digging in the back yard for pirate treasures, nor are we impelled to suddenly turn hand-springs just for the fun of the thing. And when we join our children in these divertissements and pretend that we like them just as they do, we do not deceive them. They know perfectly well that we are just patronizing them and all that we accomplish is to spoil the game for them.

The worst feature of the pal-mother, however, is that she becomes monopolistic. She is determined to be all in all to her child, so she separates him from all the youngsters of his own age. She never lets him play with other little boys. She plays with him herself. When he comes home from school he does not join a lot of yelling youngsters in a rough-and-tumble game. Mother reads with him, or takes him for a sedate walk, or to hear a symphony concert, or to the museums to see some new pictures

The pal-mother is very smug over keeping her son from ever having any friends but herself. She thinks that she has kept him away from temptation and made him gentle and refined by preventing him from associating with rough, rude boys, but, in reality, she has done him a greater harm than his worst enemy could have devised. For she has utterly unfitted him for life. She has made him into a sissy and given a feminine slant to all of his ideas. She has kept him from discipline that boys give each other and that is worth more than anything they teach in college, and she has made him forever an alien among the men with whom he must do business in life.

The girl with a pal-mother is just as unfortunate as her brother. She is even more to be pitied, because most boys do manage to rid themselves of the mothers who are Old Women of the Sea upon their backs, but it is almost impossible for a girl to free herself from a mother who persists in shadowing her. We see Friend Mother at every turn, and she always tells us that she and Mamie are just like sisters, and that they go everywhere together, and that Mamie tells her every thought of her heart, and that Mamie has never had any intimate friends as most girls do, because she has just been everything to her.

And you will find that Mamie is a spiritless, pepless, joyless, meek kind of girl who wears the clothes that mother picks out for her, who rarely speaks because mother does all of Mamie's talking for her, who sits with mother on the sidelines at dances, who never has a date because mother always stays in the room when young men call, and who finally becomes an old maid because every man knows that if he marries Mamie he will also marry mamma.

I am not saying that children do not love their parents and do not enjoy their society. They do, and the older they get, the more they enjoy it. But children do not want their parents as friends. They want them as something higher and finer than that. Something that almost stands for God in their young minds. And they want companions of their own age. And that is why no woman should attempt to pal too much with her youngsters. It is a curse to them.

Uncle Wiggily In a Bag

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was helping his wife do the washing, because Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper was ill with a cold and Dr. Possum made her stay in bed. Uncle Wiggily didn't really wash the clothes. He said he didn't know how.

"But I can hang them up as well as you can, my dear," he told his wife.

"You are very kind," said the lady rabbit.

So now Uncle Wiggily was out in his yard with a big basket of wet clothes, ready to hang them out on the line. He had a basket of clothes-pins ready to fasten on the sheets, pillow cases, about a hundred pairs of stockings and many other washed things.

"Take the sheets first, Wiggy," his wife called to him from the laundry door. "The sheets are largest and need lots of room. Then hang up the pillow cases. Hang them only by one edge so the wind can blow through them and dry them more quickly."

"I will," said the rabbit gentleman and he began.

Uncle Wiggily had hung up some of the sheets and was thinking it was rather fun than otherwise, and he was standing between two sheets on separate lines so he couldn't see who was passing along the woodland path just outside his bungalow fence.

Perhaps it was a good thing the rabbit gentleman couldn't see who was passing, for he might have hopped inside and stopped hanging up the clothes. It was the Bob Cat who went slinking along the path, as hungry and unpleasant as ever. All of a sudden the Bob Cat looked over the fence and saw Uncle Wiggily hanging out the clothes.

"Shiver my whiskers!" softly mewed the Bob Cat like a sailor puss. "There's Uncle Wiggily! He can't see me on account of those big sheets. I'll go get the Fox and we'll come back here and nibble him. I am very hungry for nibbles this morning."

Taking one more look at the bunny rabbit gentleman, who knew nothing of the bad luck waiting for him, the Bob Cat ran as fast as he could to the den of the Fox.

"What do you think?" panted the Bob Cat, somewhat out of breath.

"I am too hungry to start guessing riddles so early in the morning!" snarled the Fox.

"This isn't a riddle," mewed the Bob Cat. "It is something to eat."

"What?" asked the Fox.

"Uncle Wiggily," was the answer. "You can't guess what the rabbit is doing just now."

"I'm too hungry to guess," said the Fox. "Tell me."

"Uncle Wiggily is in the garden hanging up the clothes!" said the Bob Cat.

"I knew you were fooling me!" howled the Fox. "I suppose the next joke will be that you tell me along came a blackbird and nipped off his nose."

"Nothing of the sort!" snapped the Bob Cat, trying to sit on his silly tail. "When I saw Uncle Wiggily he was hanging up sheets on the line. The sheets are so big he can't see us sneaking up on him, so we can easily catch him. And no blackbird had come along to nip off his nose when I was there."

"We'll be the blackbirds!" chuckled the Fox. "We'll nip off not only his nose but his ears! Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bob Cat. Though if Uncle Wiggily had been there I think he would not have laughed.

So the two Bad Chaps went slinking along toward the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow. They were snapping their teeth and lolling out their tongues, for they were getting hungrier each minute.

By this time Uncle Wiggily had begun to hang up the pillow cases by one edge as his wife had told him to, so they were like big white bags hanging on the line with the wind blowing them out.

"It is fun to hang the clothes," said the rabbit, gently twinkling his pink nose. Then, all of a sudden, Robin, the bird for whom he had made the bath, flew over the fence, hastily calling:

"Hide yourself! Hide yourself, Uncle Wiggily! Here comes the Fox and Bob Cat. Hide!"

"But where can I hide?" asked the rabbit. "I can't run into my bungalow, for they'll see me and stop me. Oh, dear!"

"Hide in one of those bags!" whispered the bird, pointing a wing at a hanging pillow case. "Jump in one and hide!" Uncle Wiggily did this and soon he was snuggled down inside the hanging pillow case on the line.

Along came the Bad Chaps. There was no sign of the rabbit. They never thought of looking in the pillow case. Ha! Ha! Ha!

"Fooled again!" snarled the Fox and he made a face at the Bob Cat.

And if the string bean will tie itself around the neck of the molasses bottle like a lace collar, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's first rose.

BRIGHTON TO MAKE SWIMMING SAFE

London, June 8.—Brighton has decided to take a leaf out of the book of seaside resorts overseas.

The town council is to enroll a corps of volunteer "lifeguards" as one of several methods of making bathing safer. Of course, they will not have such exciting things as sharks to contend with like their brothers in Australia or South Africa, but their existence is well justified by the number of bathing casualties which occur in this country each year.

Oxygen and carbon dioxide life-saving apparatus is also to be installed at selected points on Brighton's beaches.

By adopting these measures the Brighton authorities have successfully resisted an attempt to restrict bathing to certain beaches—an attempt sponsored by the "kill-joys."

Moreover, they have approved three new public bathing stations, where men, women and children will be able to undress on the open shingle and bathe free of charge.

H.B.C. GOVERNOR TO VISIT ARCTIC

Canadian Press

London, June 8.—For the first occasion in the 264 years of the company's history, the governor of the Hudson's Bay Company will visit its Arctic trading posts.

Ashley Cooper will leave on Tuesday for the journey, traveling to the north by the Hudson Bay route.

In response to a request from Admiral Jellicoe, president of the Empire Day movement, the governor has consented to deposit a wreath of honor in the Bay as near as possible to the spot where Henry Hudson, the navigator, was cast adrift by a mutinous crew, without food or water, on June 23, 1611, and left to perish miserably.

Sol Duc Here This Morning

Repairs to the Ss. Iroquois in Seattle have been slightly delayed, and in her place the veteran steamer Sol Duc came to Victoria this morning from Seattle, Port Townsend and Port Angeles. Because of heavy freight consignments from Port Angeles the Sol Duc was several hours behind schedule.

A. C. Stickley, local agent for the Puget Sound Navigation Company, was advised this morning that the Iroquois would be back on the run to-morrow morning. She suffered a mishap when entering Port Angeles harbor yesterday morning on her way to Victoria from Seattle.

Entertain Sailors From U.S. Cruiser

Canadian and United States Bluejackets Fraternize at Smoker

The hand of international good-fellowship was extended across the banquet table yesterday evening in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium when 400 sailors of the Canadian and United States navies were entertained at a monster smoker by the Province of British Columbia, with the co-operation of the sailors' and soldiers' ex-service organizations.

The affair was in honor of the ship's company of the U.S.S. San Francisco, now on a visit to Esquimalt harbor, and was attended as well by men from H.M.C.S. Skeena and H.M.C.S. Vancouver.

The large hall was decorated with a nautical touch, flags of fifty nations being suspended from the walls, with the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes in the place of honor. The flags were loaned by the Esquimalt Naval Barracks. Across the table were spun many yarns, the men from the two navies fraternizing cordially. They talked of places they had visited in the West Indies, while some of the older sailors spoke of the distant ports of China and Japan where they had once served.

"OLD GLORY"

Community singing was a feature of the evenings, the bluejackets joining the soloists in several rousing choruses. In one of the medleys came the refrain of the stirring "Old Glory," which honors the United States flag. At its first notes every one of the sailors from the San Francisco stood rigidly, and in silence, until the song was finished. So spontaneous was the act that Capt. R. E. Ingersoll, U.S.N., commander of the cruiser, who was a special guest, said he would mention it in his orders.

Attending the reception with Capt. Ingersoll and some of his senior officers were the Lieut.-Governor, accompanied by A. M. D. Fairbairn; Premier Pattullo and Major S. F. M. Moodie and Commander George C. Jones, R.C.N., commander-in-charge of the Esquimalt Naval Barracks, accompanied by Eng.-Commander G. L. Stephens, R.C.N.; Eng.-Commander P. C. Phillips, R.C.N., and Lieut.-Commander H. R. Tingley, R.C.N.

THE PROGRAMME

A splendid programme was given by a number of well-known artists, who were introduced by Jack Rivers, the efficient chairman. Contributing to the programme were members of the Victoria Male Quartette, Fred Hunter, banjoist; Buster Brown, comedian; A. Jackman, soloist; Tom Obie and Stan James, Joe Dobie, J. Mossop, cornetist; A. Warner, Cliff Prescott, Frank White, accordionist, and Brown and Smith.

The men from the San Francisco, before leaving the hall, expressed their thanks to those in charge of the affair. They had had a splendid time, they said, and would long remember the hospitality offered them in Victoria.

Three Fishermen Missing at Sea

St. John's Nfld., June 8. — Search went forward over the stormy sea off Newfoundland's southwestern tip today for three salmon fishermen adrift somewhere off the coast in a disabled motorboat.

Hope for the safety of James Gale, George Hilliard and his son, James, had been all but abandoned.

They were swept to sea Wednesday when the engine of the fifteen-foot craft broke down as they tended nets a short distance off shore.

NEW CRUISER OFF VICTORIA

U.S.S. Astoria, on Trial Tests From Bremerton, Seen Off Victoria This Morning

Victorians living along the waterfront were amazed this morning, when looking seaward, they saw what they took to be the U.S.S. San Francisco cruising about in the Straits. The San Francisco, they thought, was at anchor in Esquimalt harbor and would remain there until to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, when she is scheduled to leave for Portland.

Inquiry elicited the information that the cruiser in the Straits this morning was the U.S.S. Astoria, a sister ship to the San Francisco, which was only commissioned a few days ago at the naval drydock at Bremerton.

Following is the dispatch from Bremerton which explained the cruiser's presence in the Straits this morning:

Bremerton, June 8.—The new 10,000-ton cruiser Astoria sailed from the navy yard yesterday for extensive manoeuvres and final trial tests in the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

The speedy cruiser will manoeuvre off Port Townsend and Port Angeles and will cruise in the direction of Victoria, B.C., before returning to Seattle to-morrow morning to remain here the week-end, for inspection by the general public of Seattle. Tests will be resumed in the Straits on Monday, until June 16, when the Astoria will return to Bremerton.

The cruiser will sail from here July 2 for a shakedown cruise to southern waters, Capt. Edmund Root, former governor of the Island of Guam, is the commander.

The naval oil tanker Kanawha, tied up nearly four years in decommissioned ship row, was back in service to-day.

Refitted and painted, she will replace the naval tanker Brazos in supplying oil to Pacific coast navy yards, ships and shore stations.

About $150,000 has been spent in reconditioning the Kanawha. She is commanded by Commander Clyde G. West.

MEN ORDERED FROM TANKER

But Boatswain Returns to Ship Three Times Before Strikers Get Him to Leave

Portland, June 8.—A new outbreak of hostilities in the longshoremen's strike flared here yesterday evening when a group of pickets ordered the crew of the Richfield tanker Kekoskee off the ship and a boatswain refused to go, police said they were informed.

Richfield officials said the Kekoskee docked at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and soon a group of strikers ordered the crew to leave. All did so with the exception of the boatswain, who has had trouble with strikers in several ports along the coast.

When the boatswain, who refused to give his name, returned to the ship three times after being taken off, several of the group were reported to have attacked him. Officers were unable to learn where he was taken.

Nine members of the crew of the ship were conveyed to a stage depot and instructed to buy tickets to their California homes, police said stage company officials reported.

Stage company officials reported they were told to reserve places for twenty-four men on the late stage. Most of the crew members live in Long Beach and Los Angeles, police were informed.

Police were told that the boatswain had agreed to leave the ship at Long Beach, but had smuggled himself aboard before sailing time.

The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during three of the usual tidal periods.

IXION CALLS AT VICTORIA

Transferred Her Cargo to the Ms. Tantalus Off White Rock Yesterday

A week behind schedule on her return voyage to the Orient, the Blue Funnel liner Ixion reached Victoria early this afternoon to take on United States mails and passengers for ports in China and Japan. The longshoremen's strike has held the ship at Vancouver for the last three and a half weeks.

The Ixion and the Tantalus, which arrived Monday morning from the Orient, went to the international boundary line near White Rock yesterday where the crews of the two vessels transferred 1,000 tons of freight from the Ixion to the Tantalus.

The freight, which was to have been discharged at Seattle, but could not be unloaded, owing to the strike, was being taken aboard the Tantalus in the hope that before she is due to sail in two weeks' time she may be able to land the cargo.

The Ixion discharged her Vancouver cargo several weeks ago and took aboard a large parcel for Orient ports. About 9,000 tons of cargo had been assembled in Seattle for this ship, but this is still waiting on docks at the Puget Sound port.

SAILING CANCELLED

The sailing from Seattle and Victoria to-morrow of the Ss. President McKinley, has been cancelled, according to word received in Victoria this morning by Wm. M. Allan, local agent for the American Mail Line. She arrived from the Orient ten days ago and is tied up at her Seattle dock with 3,800 tons of general cargo still in her holds.

There are now three President liners lying idle in Seattle harbor. The President Grant, which arrived nearly four weeks ago from the Orient, is there with cargo still in her holds, and the President Madison, which was never repaired after her mishap last year, is also tied up in the harbor.

The Ss. Emma Alexander, regularly on the Victoria-Seattle-California route, remains tied up in Seattle, along with twenty other ships of all descriptions, including half a dozen ships of the Alaska trade.

CAPT. RANDALL ON LEVIATHAN

Commodore of United States Lines to Take Out Huge Liner to Europe Saturday

New York, June 8.—The "dowager queen" of the North Atlantic is back in polite society again, hoping to end her days there after a lifetime of ups and downs for which she was not to blame.

Proudly, with her house flag flying from the peak, the Ss. Leviathan, America's largest passenger liner, steamed in through the early morning mist to her harbor anchorage today, ready to resume her rightful place among the queens of the sea.

She returned from Boston, where they have been refitting her, in shining new raiment, and to-morrow afternoon she will sail for Cherbourg, once more the flagship of the United States lines.

IDLE A YEAR

For the last year she has languished at her Hoboken pier, a 50,000-ton floating palace that was regarded as "too good" to be good enough. In her sporadic periods of service on the North Atlantic during twenty years, she never showed a profit, and when the depression struck the shipping business her present owners obtained a twelve-month suspension in the clause in the contract of sale which stipulated that she must make seven round trips annually. Now times are better and they are going to try again.

On her bridge to-morrow will be Capt. Albert B. Randall, commodore of the fleet.

Barrymores To Cruise North

John and His Family in Vancouver Awaiting Arrival of Yacht From South

Vancouver, June 8. — Waiting the arrival of the palatial yacht, the Infanta, which is now coming north from Southern California, John Barrymore, famous actor of the stage and screen, with Mrs. Barrymore and their two children, John Jr. and Dolores Jr., are in Vancouver today, guests at the Hotel Georgia.

These members of America's royal family of stage and screen arrived here Wednesday evening by train from Seattle, after coming north by train from their Hollywood home. The ocean trip aboard their yacht would have been too difficult for the children, John said during the course of a brief interview.

As soon as the Infanta arrives the Barrymores will go aboard and start their second cruise to northern British Columbia and Alaska waters. They plan to be away about two months. Mr. Barrymore has brought along his elaborate fishing equipment and intends to spend many hours at his favorite pastime. He needs a rest, Mrs. Barrymore told interviewers, and she intends to see that he gets it. Mrs. Barrymore was formerly Dolores Costello, also a famous player of stage and screen.

Last year the Barrymores started their Alaska cruise from Victoria. They would have done the same this year if they could have come north passenger liner. But the longshoremen's strike prohibited this, so they had to travel by rail and they said it was much more convenient to come direct here than to start from Victoria. If possible they will visit the capital city on their way south, they said. They were several days in Victoria last summer and enjoyed their stay.

HAWKS BACK FROM CHINA

Noted Speed Flier Says China Making Great Strides in Aviation

Los Angeles, June 8.—Returning from the Orient, where he spent four months in the interests of a United States airplane manufacturing concern, Lieut.-Commander Frank Hawks, United States Naval Reserve flier, said to-day the Chinese government is making rapid strides in the development of its air defences. Hawks arrived here by the Ss. President Coolidge.

"The Chinese government now has a fleet of 300 planes, and pilots who are highly trained and efficient," Hawks said. "The flying corps is under command of Col. Jack Jouett, former United States Army flier, who has accomplished wonders. The Chinese government realizes its roads are so poor and its transportation system so meagre, that it must depend on airplanes for development of the country.

Chinese leaders are proceeding cautiously in development of air transportation. However, banditry is really a profession there, so the licensing of fliers is closely supervised in order that brigands may not use planes in their lawless work. Commercial lines are being developed under strick supervision, but private ownership is kept to a minimum.

Hawks said he had given up speed flying for good, and would devote all his time to research and engineering development. He plans to remain here several days.

Only Six Officials Get Over $15,000 a Year, Commons Committee Told

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 8.—A drastic cutting of salaries of Canadian National Railway executive officers was revealed to the railways and shipping committee of the House of Commons yesterday.

In answer to a request made by J. A. Fraser, Conservative member for Cariboo, Chairman C. P. Fullerton told the committee that the number of executive officers in receipt of $15,000 or more had dwindled from thirty-six in 1931 to an even half dozen now.

A total compensation of $677,500 for these officers in 1931 had now dropped to $117,800. Personal expenses of the thirty-six executives in 1931 totaled $51,461. Last year they amounted to $5,852.

The statement prompted one member of the committee, Wilfred Hanbury, Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard, to protest strongly that C.N.R. executives were not receiving enough pay. He said he understood heads of Class A railways elsewhere were in receipt of salaries ranging from $75,000 to over $100,000.

MAINTENANCE COSTS

The Canadian National, in common with other railroads, had deferred a considerable amount of maintenance work during the depression years, but compared favorably with other lines in that respect, S. J. Hungerford, president of the road, said.

Because of the great decrease in the volume of business and the resulting idleness of equipment, a large number of operating units had been stored in idleness. The main line of travel had been maintained at a high state of efficiency, comparable with pre-depression years, the president stated, and the same could be said with respect to those units of equipment being used.

BOATS SEARCH FOR DYNAMITE

Blasting Powder Lost Overboard From Barge Off Southern California Coast

San Pedro, June 8.—Two coast guard cutters yesterday scoured the channel and scanned the beaches below Newport Bay for 46,000 pounds of dynamite and blasting powder lost overboard from a Rohl-Connolly Company barge in mid-channel early in the morning.

The 800 cases and drums of explosives were being transported from Balboa to the Rohl-Connolly quarries at Catalina Island for blasting breakwater rock when the towed barge was capsized by heavy seas about fifteen miles southwest of Newport. Numerous floating cases were recovered by company tugs. Others were washed up on the shore line and recovered there by coast guard patrol boats.

Coast guard officers expressed belief to-day that danger to passing shipping passed by this morning, since all floating cases have probably become waterlogged and sunk. The loss was estimated as $5,000.

Anglo Canadian In Port To-day

To load 400,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom, the British freighter Anglo Canadian, reached Ogden Point Piers early this afternoon to King Brothers, local shipping agents. She came here from Englewood, on the east coast of the island, opposite Alert Bay.

Built by Short Brothers at Sunderland in 1928, the Anglo Canadian is registered at 5,268 tons, with a length of 426 feet, a beam of fifty-eight feet and a depth of twenty-four feet. She is operated by the Nitrate Producers' Steamship Company, which is managed by Lawther, Latta and Company of London. Her home port is London.

To-morrow morning King Brothers expect the Ss. City of Victoria to return to Ogden Point to take an additional 450,000 feet of lumber for Shanghai. This freighter was here last Sunday, and since then has been to mainland ports.
